Roosevelt - du Pont Nuptials Today, 4 p.m. in Christiana Hundred

Two Youngsters in Love Make Mere Spectators of Nation's No. 1 Executives, Politically and Industrially.

SINGLE-RING RITE

Simple Ceremony to Make Miss Ethel du Pont Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.

Wilmington, Del., June 30 (AP)—The story-book romance of Ethel du Pont and Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., moved swiftly today to its climax in the flower-banked chancel of a simple country church.

The wedding ceremony which will unite the two members of two of the country's most famous powerful families was scheduled for 4 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

It will make of President Roosevelt, Cabinet members and heads of the du Pont clan mere spectators, taking a back seat for two youngsters in love.

The President, with Mrs. Roosevelt, was to arrive from Washington about noon. Arrangements were made for his train to stand at a country station, Montchanin, while he went first on a round of social functions and then to rustic Christ Church in Christiana Hundred to see his son wed.

The church, a du Pont place of worship for three-quarters of a century, stands on du Pont property in a countryside covered with estates of members of that family. That area, just north of Wilmington, was the scene of all today's events.

Highways Guarded

State Police guarded the strategic highways and lanes and a detachment of regular army soldiers moved in from Fort du Pont to keep watchful eyes on the scene while the President was about.

Officials said the duty of the soldiers was to supplement the protective efforts of regular White House Secret Service and State Police officers.

The bridal couple began the day already rehearsed in their lines and well-showered with attentions that ranged from hundreds of simple gifts to elaborate parties, the last of which was last night. Their schedule included:

A bridal party luncheon at which all members of the immediate families would meet for the first time. This was scheduled for the home of a bridesmaid, Mrs. C. Porter Schutt, near the estate of Ethel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene duPont.

Single-Ring Ceremony

The brief single-ring Episcopal wedding ceremony, with 342 guests invited. This was to be performed by the rector, the Rev. Frederick Ashton, who christened Ethel, and by the Rev. Endicott Peabody, of Groton School, Mass., who has married two other Roosevelt sons, Elliott and James.

A reception for 1,300 guests by the bride's parents, and last, the dash for a mysterious honeymoon destination, said variously to be in Europe, at a friend's summer home, or possibly aboard a yacht.

Careful precautions were taken to see that everything ran on schedule, and there were no gate-crashers, and that guests were adequately entertained.

Arriving guests, met by cars arranged for by the bride's father, carried engraved "admit" cards. These were blue for the wedding and white for the reception. They were honored by officers stationed at the closed country lanes leading to church and home.

Secret service men stood guard at Owls Nest, the bride's home, where a glittering array of wedding presents was on display for the first time.

Among Gifts.

Among the gifts were a huge silver platter, inscribed on the bottom, "To Ethel duPont from the cabinet," a nest of four tables in rich wood, sparkling Steuben glass ware, rich linens, heavy old candlesticks and lovely china.

There were many simple objects. A sterling silver cigarette service was a miniature copy of an old-fashioned bacon box. An egg broiler heated by an oil lamp and large enough for four eggs was made in heavy silver plate.

The gifts bore no tags disclosing the givers—that information was to be available to reception guests from attendants.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt sent the flat-silver—all possible pieces—as they have done for each of their children.

No "Reasonable" Plan Says Maltbie; Admits Error in First Letter

Chairman of P. S. C. Says He Meant "Reasonable" Plan in Letter to Acting Mayor Schwenk on Crossing Elimination Criticism and Lack of Action

Acting Mayor John J. Schwenk this morning made public the following letter which he has received from Milo R. Maltbie, chairman of the State Public Service Commission, in which Mr. Maltbie admits that the city of Kingston did submit a plan last year for the elimination of the Broadway crossing, although in a recent published letter the Public Service Commission chairman charged that the mayor and city officials promised to submit a plan but never did so. The letter follows:

Maltbie Letter

"In reply to your letter of June 19 in reference to the city of Kingston submitting a plan for the elimination of the Broadway crossing, I omitted the word "reasonable" in the fourth paragraph of my letter, but stated in the last paragraph thereof that the city, in my opinion, had not submitted a reasonable plan for the elimination. At least that was the thought intended to be conveyed.

"The city did submit a plan which provided for taking the property on both sides of Broadway from Dederick street to Cornell street which involved land damages estimated to be $700,000. To this amount must be added the construction cost in excess of $300,000, making a total for the elimination of a single grade crossing in excess of a million dollars".

"This suggestion did not appeal to the Commission in view of the fact that there are other practicable ways to solve the problem".

Very sincerely,
(signed) Milo R. Maltbie
Chairman"

Schwenk Explains

Acting Mayor Schwenk stated that the figure of $700,000 mentioned in the Maltbie letter was the sum asked by the property owners on both sides of Broadway, between Cornell and Dederick streets for 20 feet from the front of each property, and it was this high cost for property damages which caused the Public Service Commission to reject the city's plan, and to submit the so-called plan "B", modified, which took all the property on the south side of Broadway and none on the north side, which plan was rejected by the Common Council.

Taylor and du Pont Tax Evasions Told; Yachts, Too, Have Day

Washington, June 30 (AP).—A congressional investigation committee received testimony today that Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, Mrs. Taylor and the late Alfred I. duPont, had reduced taxes by incorporating family residences.

Arthur H. Kent, assistant general counsel of the treasury, also told the tax inquiry committee that Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the General Motors Corporation, and Mrs. Emily R. Cadwalader, of Fort Washington, Pa., had effected tax savings by incorporating yachts.

The witness said duPont, at one time substantially controlled E. I. duPont De Nemours Company and was a "very wealthy man."

DuPont and his estate, Kent said, saved an estimated $200,437 from 1931 to 1935 through incorporation of the Nemours Company and the transfer to it of real property worth over $1,000,000, "consisting primarily of a palatial residence at Wilmington, Del."

Operating expenses for the residence, he testified, have practically equalled gross income of the Nemours Corporation and have been taken as deductions. Thus, he said, the corporation has had little net income and paid "practically no tax."

How Taylors Operated.

The Taylors, Kent continued, made their saving through the Genargua Securities Corporation which he said was organized in 1913 to hold the family residences and appurtenant properties at Locust Valley, New York. The stock of the Genargua Company, he said, is owned by Mrs. Taylor.

"It appears," Kent said," rentals were paid which represented only a small proportion of the expenses of operation of the properties which were paid by the corporation and deducted in its income tax returns."

Kent said that from 1931 to

Knickerbocker Press 94 Years Old Publishes Its Last Edition Today

Albany, N. Y., June 30 (AP).—The Albany Knickerbocker Press, for 94 years an outstanding upstate New York morning newspaper, published its last edition today.

On the front page, the newspaper carried the announcemnet of its discontinuance and the statement that the Times-Union would become Albany's only morning paper beginning tomorrow.

The paper was published by the Press Company as a member of the Frank E. Gannett group. The Albany Evening News, the other Gannett paper in Albany, will remain in the evening field. The Times-Union is published by William Randolph Hearst.

The Knickerbocker Press announcement said that mounting labor costs, "combined with the fact that Albany has been 'overnewspapered' * * * have made the changes necessary."

Hearst officials said the Times-Union would announce its change to the morning field in its last afternoon editions today.

Both announcements said that the Albany Evening News would combine the name of the Knickerbocker Press and the circulation lists of the Times-Union on a six-day evening basis, while the Times-Union would publish seven mornings a week. The Times-Union will take the Knickerbocker's circulation.

The changes follow by less than a week the merger of the New York American (morning) and the New York Journal as an evening paper. The New York Daily Mirror last Friday took over several of the American's features. All three are Hearst papers.

Smallest Deficit in 6 Years, Biggest Debt in History as Treasury Ends Year

Washington, June 30 (AP).—The treasury rounded out another fiscal year today with the smallest deficit in six years, the biggest debt in history and $1,000,000,000 in its cash box.

Government income was the largest since 1921 and spending was reduced from last year.

President Roosevelt made public at his press conference late yesterday a budget bureau report showing revenues would top his revised estimate by $50,000,000 to $60,000,000.

Spending for ordinary government purposes, it said, will exceed the forecast by $75,000,000.

The $75,000,000 figure, Mr. Roosevelt said, included $40,000,000 which the treasury deposited in the Social Security old age reserve fund this month. It had been intended originally to make the deposit in the next fiscal year.

Including emergency and relief outlays in the spending estimate, treasury statistics showed that expenditures went $137,000,000 over the president's revised estimate on June 26. The computation did not include $103,000,000 spent to pay off government debt.

The $137,000,000 excess over the estimate will increase further when spending is computed through June 30.

Mr. Roosevelt estimated the public debt would stand at about $36,400,000,000 at midnight tonight. This would be the largest June 30 figure ever recorded, but would be $233,000,000 under the all-time peak of June 15.

The president said the debt has remained virtually stationary since last December, except for borrowing to finance treasury gold acquisitions and payments into government life insurance, old age and unemployment insurance reserve funds.

Borrowing for gold purchases, he said, has totaled $1,050,000,000. He asserted this borrowing put a corresponding sum of gold assets in the treasury.

British Cabinet Meets To Consider Quitting Neutrality Policy

Germany and Italy Remain Firm in Rejection of Anglo-French Proposal to Patrol Spanish Coast.

FRANCO PREPARES

Rebel General Getting Ready for New Thrust at Madrid via Jarama Front.

(By The Associated Press)

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain called the British cabinet into session today to consider possible abandonment of the entire "hands off Spain" non-intervention scheme, in the face of determined German and Italian opposition to his Spanish war policy.

Both Germany and Italy remained firm in their rejection of a British-French proposal for taking over the entire naval patrol of Spain's coasts to prevent arms and men from reaching either side in the Spanish conflict.

Germany and Italy recalled warships from the patrol last week.

Informed Italian circles accused Britain and France of favoring the Spanish government

French official sources in Paris expressed the opinion that the international naval control plan could be considered as virtually ended, if Germany and Italy persisted in their opposition to strictly Franco-British surveillance.

Insurgent General Francisco Franco was reported massing his forces on the Jarama front southeast of Madrid for a new thrust at the erstwhile capital.

Protests to Portugal

London, June 30 (AP)—Great Britain protested today to Portugal against its decision to suspend facilities for aiding British non-intervention observers along the Spanish frontier.

Cabinet Session

London, June 30 (AP).—In the face of determined German and Italian opposition to his Spanish civil war policy, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain called his cabinet today to consider abandonment of the entire neutrality scheme.

The ministers held hurried, informal conferences late last night in the Prime Minister's room at the House of Commons as a preliminary to the grave deliberations in full session at No. 10 Downing street.

Chamberlain was understood to have pointed out to his colleagues the dangerous situation which might develop if the two Fascist powers persisted in their rejection of the Franco-British patrol plan.

Italy and Germany, no longer participated in the Isolation patrol of the coast of Civil War-torn Spain, yesterday refused to accept the French and British proposal to give new life to the control fleet by replacing the withdrawn warships with their own.

The two powers left the patrol after they had charged repeated attacks on their ships made it unsafe for them to participate. They retained membership in the 27-nation committee that sponsored the patrol to keep arms and men from Spain, however, and, as members, claimed the right to veto the Franco-British proposal.

Might Scrap Plan.

If the two central European powers give an unqualified "no" when the non-intervention subcommittee meets again Friday—and diplomatic circles see little hope of any other answer—it was thought Britain might scrap the neutrality plan she has worked so thanklessly to maintain. The two powers' representatives agreed to confer again with their governments before the Friday session.

Britain and France, their foreign policy stiffened in the last week of tension, are not inclined to wait indefinitely, it was emphasized here, while Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini think up counter proposals.

Informed circles predicted that if a solution of the critical situation is not reached by the end of this week Britain would extend belligerent rights to the Spanish Insurgents.

One point of view was that this would be a concession to Germany and Italy to secure their continued collaboration in some form of non-intervention. Another was that Britain would simply recognize that a state of war existed in Spain, declare her neutrality and, in effect, wash her hand of the committee's faltering efforts.

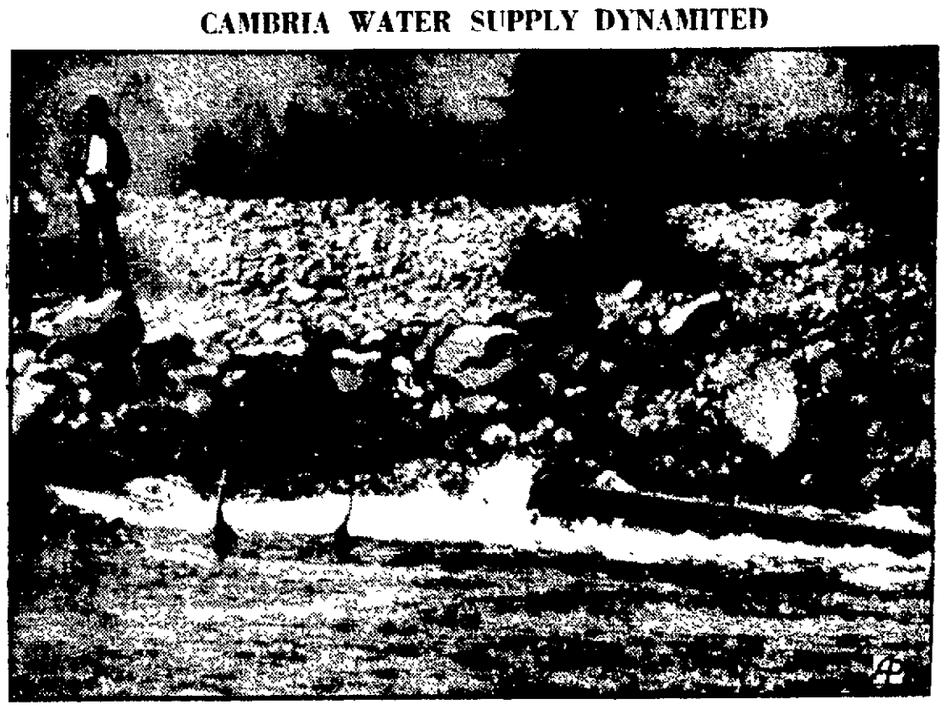

Germany and Italy recognized the Insurgent regime as the official Spanish government, and extension of belligerent rights by Great Britain would amount to a "pat on the back" for it, British observers said.

Agriculture Appropriation.

Washington, June 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt signed today a bill appropriating $630,381,298 to carry out activities of the department of agriculture and the farm credit administration during the 1938 fiscal year, which begins tomorrow. This compared with an appropriation of $612,272,000 for the current fiscal year.

7 Persons Killed Memorial Day, Shot in Back, Coroner's Report Tells Senate Group

CAMBRIA WATER SUPPLY DYNAMITED

Five blast and 15 open hearth furnaces of the Cambria Steel Plant, at Johnstown, Pa., have been shut down as the result of dynamiting of the plant's water supply. Officials said this would delay operations for an indefinite period. This 36-inch emergency main, one of those blown up, leads from Border Dam.

ARRESTED IN DYNAMITE PLOT

These three men are charged with plotting a reign of terror, violence and destruction in the vicinity of Warren, Ohio. Dynamite bombs and a supply of nitroglycerine were found at their headquarters. L. to R.: Arthur Scott, John Borawcicand George Bundas. The three named Gus Hall as their leader.

Civil Liberties Commission Wishes To Know Why; Also How Police Could Have Fired Well from Ground.

CANTON BLASTS

Water Main Blasted, Other Disorder at Canton — Several Hurt at Cleveland.

Washington, June 30 (AP)—The Senate Civil Liberties Committee presented evidence today that seven of the 10 persons killed in the Memorial Day battle with Chicago police were shot in the back.

Chairman La Follette (Prog.-Wis.) submitted a hitherto unpublished coroner's report, showing that three of the slain men had bullet wounds in the side and the rest in the back.

The senator read a police report which said that "some of the officers on the ground and at the mercy of the mob fired their service revolvers," and then asked Chicago Police Commissioner James P. Allman:

"Can you explain how these men could have been shot in the back, if the police were lying on the ground defending themselves with service revolvers?"

"They might have been shot in the back by other strikers," Allman suggested.

Under La Follette's persistent questioning, Allman asserted that "it is a matter of judgment" where the bullets might take effect, and added:

"You can't do target practice when you are on the ground."

The witness declared that he had made no personal investigation of the shooting, and that he had not seen the coroner's report because "I am waiting for the inquest to be held."

He expressed "complete confidence" that his subordinates in charge of the four police platoons involved in the shooting had made "full and fair reports."

Several Injured.

Cleveland, June 30 (AP)—Several persons were injured, women's dresses were ripped apart and one man was arrested today in a clash between A. F. L. and C. I. O. Garment workers at the plant of the Stone Knitting Mills Co here.

The A. F. L group forced its way through the C. I. O. picket line into the mill, one of four plants here that had been closed by C. I. O. picket lines in an organization dispute with the A. F. L.

The A. F. L. contingent massed near a police station and marched to the plant. There mounted policemen and 30 patrolmen pushed the C. I. O. pickets away from the plant entrance. Both groups were mostly women.

Two men and a woman were treated at a hospital. Others were treated nearby. Police arrested a man they described as a C. I. O. organizer and accused of throwing bolts and nuts in the 10-minute fight.

Canton Blasts

By The Associated Press

Canton, O., June 30—Dynamite blasted a water main, telephone wires were ripped from poles, and pickets hooted and jeered, as the Republic Steel Corporation successfully opened its four plants here today under protection of the Ohio National Guard.

Two low flying guard airplanes acted as "eyes" for the heavily-armed troops, spotting any disorder and sending guard detachments to quell it.

Forty pickets were arrested.

By mid-morning, Republic announced that 112 automobiles had hurried approximately 450 workers into the plants, and the movement of cars in and out kept up.

Some 200 pickets, many women, were kept moving smartly along by the guardsmen.

200 Pickets Busy

(By The Associated Press)

Canton, O., June 30—Two hundred pickets blocked the busy intersection of Eight and Belden streets today, seeking to halt a return-to-work movement at Republic Steel Corp. plants.

At least 20 cars of non-strikers were prevented from driving to the Eighth street plant entrance. Halted by the CIO pickets they turned their machines around and sought to enter by another route.

A group of strikers swarmed around one of the non-strikers' automobiles and police arrested 20 pickets. National guardsmen, in Canton to protect "the right to work" under Gov. Martin L. Davey's orders, were quickly sent to the intersection, which is several hundred yards from the plant gate.

It was not immediately determined how many men, got in

Harnett Urges Drivers to Heed Holiday Warning

Albany, N. Y., June 29.—The simple formula, set down today by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Charles A. Harnett, calls for the use of care, caution and courtesy to insure holiday motorists of a safe journey and a safe return.

"The triple holiday of July fourth coming at the peak of summer travel will present definite motoring hazards", the commissioner said. "These hazards can be eliminated, however, by safe and sane driving methods. The record set by New York state motorists on Memorial Day was an enviable one, and I urge all drivers to repeat it this holiday week-end."

Commissioner Harnett suggested the following driving hints as being useful to motorists:

Be sure that your car is in good mechanical condition before you start.

Obey traffic signals.

Do not fail to observe and obey all highway caution or warning signs. These are erected for the protection of the motorist.

Do not fail to use hand signals This is the only effective way of signifying your driving intentions to the motorist behind you.

Drive at all times at a moderate rate of speed.

Be courteous to your fellow motorists.

Don't be impatient and cut out of line if traffic is congested.

Be careful not to pass cars on a hill or a curve.

Keep at least 25 feet behind in heavy traffic. The car ahead of the car in front of you may, without warning, stop suddenly.

Out of state drivers are urged to comply with New York state driving rules and regulations, and adapt themselves to the different driving conditions in the various sections of this state.

By careful driving at all times and observance of the suggestions listed above, Commissioner Harnett said that he believed all motorists might enjoy the holiday week-end and be able to return safely to their homes and families.

U. S. Silver Fort at West Point to Hold TwoBillionOunces

Washington, June 30 (AP)—The treasury called today for bids for construction of a new concrete-walled Silver Depository adjoining the Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

The new structure will be surrounded by two concrete walls, the treasury said. The walls will be three feet apart, and armed guards will patrol between them.

The building, 166 by 272 feet, will be situated near the old north gate to the academy and will be near Storm King Highway. It will be divided into 23 cubicles for the storage of silver.

In all, the structure will have space for 2,000,000,000 ounces of the white metal, or about 70 tons.

The Treasury has $500,000 available for construction of the building. Bids will be opened July 22.

Last year the treasury built a fort-like gold depository at Fort Knox, Ky.

Booming Cannon Heralds Start Today Of Youth Demonstration—Jamboree

Washington, June 30 (AP)—A booming cannon at the base of the Washington monument heralded the start today of one of the nation's biggest youth demonstrations—the Boy Scout Jamboree.

Upwards of 25,000 Scouts were massed in khaki columns through 350 green acres of historic ground for the brief ceremonies.

The first shot, echoing from Capitol Hill to the grassy Arlington slopes, was a signal for the boys and their leaders to spring to salute before the colors of their country.

Eleven minutes later another blast was ordered, preceding the unfurling of 52 foreign standards along the stately avenue of flags.

The deep boom of the final cannon four minutes later was the cue for a simultaneous display of 1643 other flags through the camp city.

The remainder of the first day held this program for the thousands who came to Washington afoot, by bicycle, motorcycle, automobile, train, bus, boat and airplane.

Excursions to Mount Vernon.

Performances in camp theatres.

Uncle Dan Beard, venerable Scout pioneer, will light this evening with flint and steel the fire of fellowship which will burn during the encampment.

Word spread through the camp that President Roosevelt—who is scheduled to ride through the trooped ranks along constitution avenue next week—might pay an unexpected visit to the tents.

While this remained in doubt, one thing became certain—the White House can't hold the 2,500 gifts which the boys have brought Mr. Roosevelt.

A hurried inventory of the presents showed:

Horned toads, shark teeth, armadillos, mounted birds, colored sponges, totem poles, Indian wampum, gold from Cripple Creek, miniature cotton bales, pine cones and—a singing mouse.

Newspaper Group Against Closed Editorial Policies

Chicago, June 30 (AP).—Representatives of 11 newspaper associations waged a campaign today against a closed shop for editorial employes.

More than 500 newspaper publishers and executives, meeting in a special convention yesterday, adopted a resolution declaring "unalterable opposition" to the closed shop proposed by the American Newspaper Guild.

Copies of the resolution were dispatched to publishers throughout the country.

The resolution said that "as editors and publishers . . . we declare our unalterable opposition to the closed guild shop for those who prepare and edit news copy and pictures for newspapers, and we hereby express our determination not to enter into any agreement upon such basis."

James G. Stahlman, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, was elected chairman of a permanent committee appointed "to keep the public informed of the importance of the issue involved." L. B. Palmer, manager of the A. N. P. A., was named secretary.

Other Opponents

Other members of the committee, composed of presidents of the 11 associations were:

A. H. Kirchofer, American Society of Newspaper Editors; S. R. Winch, Pacific Northwest Publishers' Association; Edmund F. Jewell, New England Daily Newspaper Association; E. D. Corson, New York State Publishers' Association; R. R. O'Brien, Inland Daily Press Association; George F. Morell, California Newspaper Publishers' Association; Floyd Chalfant, Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association; Louis N. Goldberg, Texas Newspaper Publishers' Association; Ted Dealey, Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, and W. F. Wiley, Ohio Newspaper Association.

"Means Closed Mind"

Stahlman, who presided over the convention, said in his keynote address that "a closed editorial shop means a closed editorial mind." He asked: "Shall journalism remain a profession or become a trade?"

He declared the convention was not called "to antagonize organized labor" nor "to consider interference with . . . the letter or spirit of the Wagner labor relations act."

"The press, he said, "cannot live as a vital force in American institutions unless it is free, and it cannot be free if it betrays its duty to the people by surrendering its independence to any agency, within or without its own structure, however subtle its approach or specious its pleas . . ."

The resolution said the responsibility for factual presentation of news "cannot be discharged if some outside authority . . . determines whom they (publishers) shall or shall not employ. That is precisely what the American Newspaper Guild seeks by its demand."

MILTON

Milton, June 29.—The final work on the new grade school building at Milton is now in progress. All carpenters have finished their part of the construction and finishing touches are now being put upon the structure. Thomas Bocchino of Poughkeepsie has the general contract. The new tables, desks and chairs for the building have been ready and waiting for several weeks. Within three weeks' work or so the building will have reached such a stage that they can be stored in two or three of the rooms ready for school in the fall.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Needlecraft and Women's Missionary Societies of Milton will be held Wednesday afternoon, June 30, at the home of Mrs. Edward Young, Sr. Those who attend are asked to bring gifts for the shower at the Presbyterian Church fair July 9.

Among the graduates of the Highland Central School were four Milton girls. They were Kathryn Rush, Margaret Glancy, Margaret Cafferella and Virginia Anderson. Miss Virginia Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Anderson, of Milton, was the winner of the P.-T. A. prize. The award was given for the highest mark in American History, with a rating of more than 90 per cent.

John Maroldt, well known Highland contractor and builder, has been establishing a reputation for himself as a builder of cold storage plants. He has not only erected three-fourts of the individually-owned plants in the Mid-Hudson fruit district, but is busy building more. He has finished the plant on the farm of J. C. Wygant, and son, of Marlborough, and is building four more. The addition to the J. Perry Woolsey plant, west of Milton, is now all completed, and he Ralph Smith at Poughkeepsie. At the same time he is now making a real headway on the big addition undertaken for the L. C. Haviland and Son, of Highland, and has begun a 1,200 bushel plant for Antonio Pappanduea, west of Milton, in the Lattingtown neighborhood. He expects to put a big crew on the Haviland plant within the next two weeks and push it to completion by the first of August, and at the same time have the Pappanchea cooler ready for use in the Fall. This cooler will be a story and a half in size and the foundation has been started. The new cold storage plant of Dennis O'Brien, west of Milton, on the Turnpike, has recently been completed. Far from confining his work to cold storage plants he has other men at work finishing improvements on the Bunn and Grover Ferguson residence in Milton, and is completing his work of making over the Ted McManus home on the Milton Turnpike. He has had a crew of 14 men at work on various jobs since early in the year. Six brothers, all skilled carpenters and builders, assist. It is doubtful if any contractor and builder in Ulster county has made as many building improvements in the past decade as has John Maroldt.

The June meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society, of the Milton Methodist Church, was held Friday afternon at the home of Mrs. F. W. Woolsey, with Mrs. Clarence W. Dayton assistant hostess.

Dr. Victor H. Simecek and Mrs. Simecek were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Lais. Mrs. Simecek, formerly Miss Vivian Bell, is a sister of Mrs. Lais. Last year she was head dietitian in the New York Infirmary for Women and Children. Dr. and Mrs. Simecek were married in New York May 8, 1937 and are now located at Jones Port, Me.

The Rev. Ambrose J. McManus, S. J., celebrated his first Mass on Sunday in St. James Church, Milton, at 11 a. m.

David Bell, son of Herbert Bell of Milton, left on Thursday morning for Washington, D. C., to attend the National Boy Scout Jamboree there.

Raspberry picking in town of Marlborough began last week by a few of the growers but few have been shipping to New York. The raspberries, which are Cayugas and Chiefs, have been selling locally for about $7 a crate.

Next year's schedule of classes for the Central School system of the town of Marlborough was adopted by the board of education at a recent meeting. Labor Day happens to come late in 1937 on September 6, which will mean that in order to hold classes the number of days required by law, commencement for 1938 will not be until June 27.

Miss Victoria Aubin of Bridgeport, Conn., was a week-end guest of Miss Margaret Hyatt.

Mrs. Edward McManus and Miss Ellen McManus and Peter X. McManus attended the ordination ceremonies of the Jesuit Order at Woodstock, Md., Sunday, June 20.

Mrs. John Manzella attended the closing meeting of the Women's Club of Southern Ulster county on Wednesday at the home of the president, Mrs. Loren LeFevre, of Esopus.

Mrs. Frances Hoag of Chambersburg, Pa., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Woolsey.

Miss Catherine Gibney underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

School classes will not open until the Wednesday following Labor Day, the 8 teachers, however, will report on Tuesday, the 7. They will meet in the new building in Marlborough. It is hoped each one will be assigned to his room in one or the other of the new buildings in Milton and Marlborough and be given a chance to get established in the new quarters before classes begin. The holiday and vacations for the 1937-1938 term will be as follows: October 12, Columbus Day; November 11, Armistice Day; November 25-26, Thursday through Friday, Thanksgiving holiday, with no classes until Monday after Thanksgiving; December 23, after close of classes at 3 p. m. to Monday morning January 3, Christmas holiday; February 22, Washington's birthday; from 3 p. m. SCOUT INVESTITURE SERVICE AT ST. JAMES.

A very impressive investiture ceremony was held at St. James M. E. Church on Sunday evening when Oscar Hawksley, William Kinch and Lewis Roosa were admitted as tenderfoots into Troop No. 11, and William Ford was transferred from Troop No. 7.

The service was in charge of Theron Culver, chairman of the troop committee, who charged the candidates in an impressive manner of their duties and responsibilities. He was assisted by 12 scouts who stated the laws of scouting and explained each. After receiving the insignia of scouts the newly made members were placed in charge of Edgar Freese, scoutmaster, under whose able leadership this troop has made excellent progress.

Mr. Carroll spoke highly of the work being done with this troop, highly commending Mr. Freese for his excellent work and urged the parents and friends to support in every way possible the efforts of the committee and scoutmaster to make this organization of boys an effective unit in the church.

No less an authority on men's attire than Adolphe Menjou says America's college boy is the "world's best dressed man."

THIS TIME
A POLICEMAN
CALLS FOR HELP

A policeman in a neighboring state, making his nightly rounds, found the door of a warehouse open. When he went inside to investigate, the door slammed with a bang, locking him in. With his flashlight the policeman located the telephone. He called headquarters, and in a few minutes the proprietor of the warehouse showed up with a key.

Although the warehouse was closed for the night, its telephone was on the job, ready for business. There is no difference between day and night in the life of the telephone. Emergencies—the times you need the telephone most—aren't always particular about turning up during regular business hours. So your telephone must be, and is, ready to help you reach anybody, anywhere, any time. New York Telephone Company.

Barringer Tells Story of Attempt For Record in 1935

Lewin B. Barringer, the "father" of gliding activities in the Rondout Valley, has an interesting article in the current (July 3) number of the Saturday Evening Post. Lieutenant Barringer—he holds a commission in the Pennsylvania National Guard Air Service—in addition to telling the story of his almost successful attempt to break the American sailplane distance record in a flight from a newly discovered take-off point on the Shawangunk Mountains on April 3, 1935, gives many details of the art of gliding, or soaring, and also tells something of his experience as a pilot later for an archaeological expedition in Persia.

At the start of his story the lieutenant makes one slip—a geographical one and one which many people persist in making—when he speaks of his take-off field as being at "Mt. Mongola, in the Catskills." Mt. Mongola, a former well known summer resort, is located on the top of the Shawangunk Mountains, about two and a half miles southeast of Ellenville. The Rondout Valley and a considerable stretch of distance lies between that point and the blue peaks of the Catskills to the north.

Although Barringer made two other attempts at the record from this field and several glider meets have been held there, his first venture came the nearest to achieving success. He landed near Piketown, Pa., not far from Harrisburg, the final official check-up showing that he had come within a mile or so of equaling the American distance record, at that time 158 miles, held by Richard C. duPont. He estimated that he covered about 200 miles in all, to make this air-line distance.

At present Lieut. Barringer is attending the eighth annual soaring contest being held at Elmira, from June 26 to July 11.

The four climbed a seven-foot barbed wire fence at the Farm Sunday night and were found yesterday, hiding in a wood a mile from the farm.

The escapade cost the 20-year-old Norma, Anna Somper, Jessie Smith and Sylvia Fox their cottage quarters and confronted them with the prospect of additional sentences. All four are now serving indeterminate terms.

JAPANESE SINK SOVIET GUNBOAT IN AMUR RIVER

The Manchoukuo government immediately filed a vigorous protest to Moscow against the alleged invasion.

Roosevelt Signs 1½ Billion Relief

Washington, June 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt signed the $1,500,000,000 relief bill today. It provides $1,325,000,000 for WPA, $100,000,000 for the resettlement administration, and $75,000,000 for the National Youth Administration for use in the fiscal year beginning tomorrow.

During the current fiscal year WPA spent approximately $1,860,000,000. The reduction in funds will require the dismissal of thousands of relief workers each week between now and July 15. Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, has set an employment figure of 1,665,477 for that date.

On June 5 there were 1,980,000 on WPA rolls, a decrease of 19,000 from the preceding week.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 30, 1937

FOR A HAPPY HOLIDAY

The "Glorious Fourth" can be just as glorious as we choose to make it. This year the long week-end created by the holiday will intensify the hazards which the Fourth always produces. The watchword should be, "take care."

Independence Day celebrates the independence of a nation. The coming week-end will demonstrate vividly the modern interdependence of people. Great streams of traffic pouring over the highways will show how essential are mutual regard and courtesy among drivers. Fireworks will demonstrate it too. A "firecracker thrown by another" is according to the National Conservation Bureau the greatest single cause of the tremendous number of fireworks accidents every Fourth of July. At the beaches and lakes, imprudent swimmers will again remind us that human life must be risked to save the life of a drowning person.

Reasonable care divides a happy holiday from the tragedies which mar it. Reasonable care will insure your family and the other fellow against mishap. If you drive be sure to see that your car is in good mechanical condition. Check tires, lights, brakes, steering mechanism, windshield wiper, mirror, horn. Drive skillfully and at a reasonable speed. And always observe the rules and courtesies of the road.

If you use fireworks give yourself plenty of space and keep away from children and buildings. Throw firecrackers away from people and inflammable materials, not at them. Never hold an exploding firecracker and cauterize the smallest wound immediately because tetanus poisoning works fast and kills.

If you go swimming, enjoy it in a safe and protected place. Never go swimming alone, keep out of water at least one full hour after a meal and never dive into water until you are sure of its depth.

By observing the fundamental rules of safety, the huge toll of life that is taken each Fourth can be greatly reduced.

LAND AND PEOPLE

Italy and Japan and other have-not nations really face a serious problem in their surplus population and lack of natural resources, but they have not yet found the right solution, according to Isaiah Bowman, president of Johns Hopkins University. Neither wholesale migration nor military conquest will end their troubles.

Other countries cannot absorb an unlimited number of immigrants. In fact, the capacity of the populated areas of the world to absorb new immigration is very small. There remain 3,000,000 or so square miles of undeveloped land, but these are too hot or too cold or have other drawbacks to profitable settlement and development.

What can the over-crowded countries do? The population capacity of the land, explains Dr. Bowman, depends not on its degree of vacancy, but "on the total available resources which land, people, science, technology and market demand, plus transport facilities, make possible in combinations that are largely unique from region to region and from country to country."

It looks, then, as if the answer to this human problem is to make a new design for living which is based on cooperation instead of nationalistic rivalry, and which will develop science and technology for human benefit, not for destruction. The stimulation of trade and the exchange of services and skills for raw materials are called for. But it is all more easily dreamed of than done in the world's present stage of civilization.

BUSINESS GOOD

American business on the whole is good, in spite of strikes and other disturbances. Latest reports from the Department of Commerce show the last six months to be the best since 1929, in spite of losses caused by strikes in recent weeks.

The gain over last year is impressive. Industrial production is up 20 per cent, factory employment 13 per cent, factory payrolls 29 per cent, machine tool orders 90 per cent, construction contracts 17 per cent, dividend payments 40 per cent, department store sales 10 per cent. Thus the picture is uneven, but on the whole reassuring. That is, providing the present wave of industrial strife doesn't last much longer.

ASPIRIN

No one would question the fact that acetylsalicylic acid (aspirin) is one of the most useful drugs known to medicine. It relieves pain and relaxes tensed nerves and muscles so that the patient is enabled to rest or sleep and become comfortable in a very short time. Aspirin is much to be preferred to many other pain-relieving drugs.

However, as with other drugs, there are a number of individuals who are sensitive or allergic to aspirin and as so many use the drug without noticing any discomfort in stomach or intestine and are not bothered with hives, swellings or a skin rash, the symptoms of allergy or sensitiveness may be overlooked or not suspected.

However, Drs. Louis E. Prickman and Harold F. Buchstain, Rochester, Minn., in the Journal of the American Medical Association state:

"Among the most dramatic and dangerous manifestations of allergy are those reactions which follow the taking by hypersensitive (hyper meaning highly or above normal or average) individuals of familiar and ordinarily simple or innocent drugs. It is to be expected therefore that hypersensitivity to acetylsalicylic acid (aspirin) because it is used by so many people for all kinds of ailments real or fancied, would be more commonly found than with other drugs. In a group of sixty-two cases studied at the Mayo Clinic it was found that about two-thirds were between 21 and 50 years of age. Thus sensitivity to aspirin is more likely to appear in those of middle-age—somewhat later in life than with most drugs."

Practically all the reactions found with other drugs—irritation of nose and throat with asthmatic attacks, stomach and intestinal upsets, skin inflammations and swellings (except eczema) were noted in these patients sensitive to aspirin. The asthmatic attacks varied in different patients from two hours to two days after the aspirin was taken, and cases that were reported by other physicians lasted as long as two or three weeks.

The best treatment for those who realize that they are sensitive to aspirin is to avoid it entirely, remembering that it is such a useful drug that it forms a part of many tablets and powders used to relieve pain.

However acetylsalicylic acid or aspirin is a useful drug for those who are not sensitive to it. It should never be given to asthmatic patients who have growths in the nose (polyps).

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: When Kay Crandon's Lazy Nine ranch house and barn burn mysteriously, Josh Hastings—who wants to buy the ranch and marry Kay—invites her to the Flying Six. She refuses, distrusting him, but young sister Babs and Aunt Kate go. Kay plans to rebuild, but finds the insurance money has to go on the mortgage. Ted Gaynor, a puncher Kay hired impulsively, stirs the outfit to cut its own lumber and rebuild without pay. He warns her against Hastings. Kay is on her way to buy the only available timber land when a Hastings puncher rides up, lassoes her and ropes her securely.

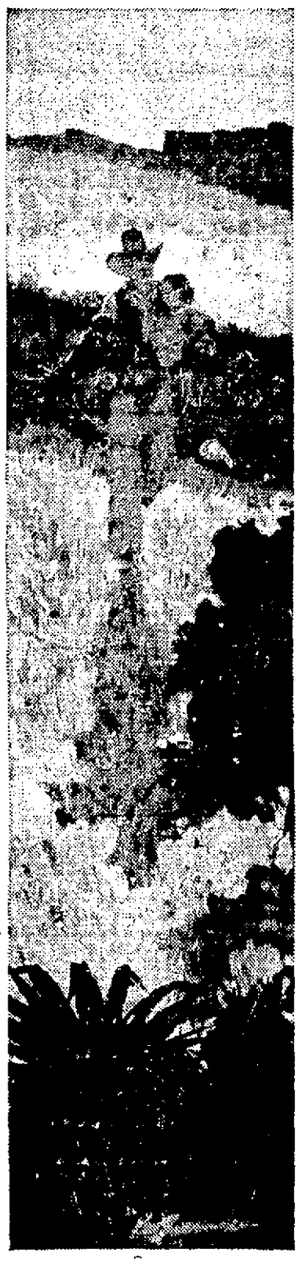

Chapter 13

Cat And Mouse

THE man's gaze rested on Kay's bound ankles. Stooping suddenly, he tested the knots. He gripped her ankles with a firm hold for a moment, then laughed as he released them and rose.

"Cut out that 'how-dare-you' stuff, Cutie," he warned. "It's my turn to set the tone of this meeting. You've high-hatted me just once too often." His mouth twisted, and he laughed again.

"Don't you worry! I ain't going to hurt you—just give you a little lesson about being too high and mighty with Scrap Johnson."

Despite her struggles, he carried Kay to a coulee.

Suddenly dropping to his knees beside her, he held Kay in an iron grip, his arm around her shoulder. Putting his other hand under her chin, he forced her to look at him.

"No good writhing that way, Girlie." His grip tightened. "You're cute as hell when you're mad, but I'm going to give you time to cool off some. I've got something more important to do before I give you that lesson. Here's a sample, though."

Bending down, he deliberately kissed her on the lips, then sprang to his feet as he released her. Every ounce of color drained from Kay's face. She bit her lip until it bled to keep from crying out.

"Too bad I can't stop for more right now, but I've got to get in and see Old Man Warren." He laughed again as Kay started.

"I don't know what it's all about," Scrap Johnson went on, enjoying the consternation that shone in Kay's eyes, "but Josh Hastings came rarin' down to the corral, and ordered me to keep you from getting to Old Man Warren's till I'd landed an option on the south ridge of the Bitter Root. Sounds crazy, but orders is orders."

Kay felt her heart turn sick. For the moment she forgot her own predicament in the fear that all her dreams for the ranch were doomed. And through her own stupidity! She must do something before it was too late!

She saw in a flash that her only hope lay in using this man as a tool, and keeping him from carrying out Hastings' orders.

Under all her rage and disgust at the indignity that had been put upon her, Kay was firmly convinced Scrap Johnson wouldn't dare do her any actual harm. He knew that his life wouldn't be worth a nickel if he did.

He was taking cruel enjoyment in playing with her as a cat plays with a mouse. And he was probably banking on her pride to keep her from telling. Instead of flouting him as she had, she must be more clever!

Kay Attempts Wile

"IT'S not very complimentary to have you leave me for an 'option,' whatever that is." Kay forced herself to a half smile, as she gazed up at him with innocently round eyes.

A flush spread over Scrap Johnson's sallow face and his jaw dropped as though he couldn't believe his eyes or his ears. He looked comically uncertain.

"What's the idea of stringing me?"

"I'm not stringing you." She glanced significantly at her ankles and wrists. "You're the one who's stringing me! Doesn't it strike you that you might get on better without these caveman methods?"

"That so? Well, we'll put it to a test. Suppose you give me a kiss?"

No effort of will could keep Kay from recoiling with an involuntary shudder of disgust, as he leaned over her.

"Ha! Trying the Delilah stuff, eh?" He straightened up with a sneering laugh. "Well, we'll talk that over later!" He looked about. "Kind of bad place to leave you."

Stooping, he picked Kay up bodily and, in spite of her struggles, carried her about 50 yards to the lea of a coulee that dipped down in the mesa. Without a word, he dumped her there and started back for his horse. Then, as an after-thought, he came back, pulled Kay's bandanna from her neck and bound it tightly about her mouth.

"Don't be lonesome, Cutie, I'll be back before long," he called mockingly over his shoulder as he mounted and rode off.

The Boys Chip In

TED GAYNOR paused as he was saddling his horse to start the long ride to his home, to arrange for moving his mother and sister to their new quarters.

He glanced down toward Kay's log cabin. On impulse he left his horse and went down to it. He knocked and received no response. Finding the door locked, he made for the bunk house on the run. As he sprang up the steps, he nearly collided with Seth.

"Hullo!" Seth exclaimed in surprise. "I thought you were on your way long ago!"

"Something's got me worried," Ted explained. "I tried to find Kay, but she's off somewhere."

"I saw her start out on Flicker about a half hour ago. What's on your mind?"

"I don't think she ought to let any grass grow under her feet before nailing that option," Ted declared. "As far as I can see, that's the only available timber there is, and we ought to make sure there's no slip up."

"Hell's bells, there can't be any slip up. Why Old Man Warren'll be tickled pink to get rid of it."

"Just the same, I'd be a lot easier to know that it was all sewed up." Ted looked from Seth to two of the boys who had come up. "Have any of you fellows got any cash?"

"Sure," Seth answered. "Why?"

"Because if we can scrape up $25, I'll go in and make a first payment on the option in Kay's name, so there can't be any chance of her losing it."

"I can't see as there's all that rush about it," Seth observed. "Still and all, there's no harm in getting that out of the way. It would be kind of a nice surprise for Kay to find it all attended to." He pulled out a roll of bills and counted $17.

"How about chipping in?" He cocked an eye at the other two, who readily complied.

"Go to it, son, if you've got a hunch that way." Seth handed Ted the money. "Bring that option back and we'll give it to Kay this evening."

"I'll do that," Ted promised, putting the wad of bills and silver dollars in his pocket, "I'll start off for home after supper."

Payrolls Push Ahead Despite Labor Wars

By R. H. HIPPELHEUSER

New York (AP)—Labor was on the march to better times in the first six months of 1937.

There were widespread strikes, long interruptions of work, and internal strife. Nevertheless, the sharp increase in employment and payrolls, well under way in 1936, continued steadily into the new year.

The bureau of labor statistics' composite index for employment and payrolls in the manufacturing industries in the first four months of 1937 tells the story (figures are based on the 1923-25 average as 100).

	Jan	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.
Employment
1936	83.0	83.2	84.1	85.1
1937	92.9	94.7	96.6	96.8
Payrolls
1936	72.2	72.3	76.3	77.9
1937	86.6	93.8	99.0	103.6

This is the composite of all manufacturing industries. The increases were sharper in the durable goods industries—machinery, shipbuilding, farm equipment—than elsewhere, for these industries found the heaviest replacement needs.

The course continued upward into May. There was considerable speculation, however, as to whether the steel strikes and other labor disputes, broadening out in June, had leveled off the upward trend.

Strikes Follow Cycle

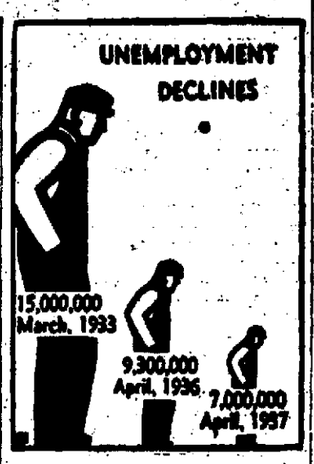

The course of labor troubles has held to its historic course. Organized labor's strength declines in panics, holds on during the leanest years, and builds anew during the revivals.

In the current upswing of the cycle begun in 1929, a further factor entered the scene—the John L. Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization, with its bitter opposition to the established American Federation of Labor.

The CIO carried its organizational campaign into such basic industries as steel—unchallenged since the strike of 1919, led by William Z. Foster—and automobiles, rubber and electrical-radio equipment.

Unemployment Drops

The estimates of the National Industrial Conference Board, it is generally computed that around five million persons of the total unemployed are accounted for by those who came of age, ready and prepared for jobs, in the years after the crash.

This chart is based on estimates by the National Industrial Conference Board.

Industrial Conference Board show 45,900,000 persons employed in April in agricultural and non-agricultural pursuits, as compared with 47,360,000 in 1929.

The April total of 11,800,000 workers employed in manufacturing shows a gain of almost five millions over July 1932, the low for industrial employment. This total, the conference board reports, is half a million above September, 1929, the highest month of employment in the peak times before the Wall Street panic. Then, 11,371,000 workers were engaged in all kinds of manufacturing industries.

Although manufacturing employment is above 1929, the April totals are behind 1929 in such industries as construction, agriculture, transportation, utilities, mining.

The April estimate of unemployment was 6,981,000 persons, as compared with 9,325,000 in April, 1936. In the march back to work in 1937, the unemployment rolls decreased 1,400,000 persons from January through April.

In such estimates as those of the National Industrial Conference Board, it is generally computed that around five million persons of the total unemployed are accounted for by those who came of age, ready and prepared for jobs, in the years after the crash.

Relief station agent and operator of the New York Central, A. G. Brown, has been appointed agent at the Shandaken station for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bowser of Tenafly, N. J., are at their summer home in the Shandaken Country Club for a week, arriving on Saturday. Their two boys preceded them by a week.

A new cantaloupe—Mildew Resistant Cantaloupe No. 45—developed by the United States Department of Agriculture and the California Agricultural Experiment Station and resistant to powdery mildew, is putting cantaloupe farmers of the Imperial Valley of California on their feet again. For more than a dozen years the Valley, which produces more than half the country's commercial cantaloupe crop, has been battling this fungus disease.

Man About Manhattan

By GRENVILLE TUCKER

NEW YORK—We were crowded about one of the telegraph operators in the sports department, getting the play-by-play of the Yankee-Detroit game, when the instrument spluttered and then began to bark in a sharp staccato. The operator jerked up his head as if he had been slapped! "What was that?" I asked. "Did Greenberg hit another home run?" The operator turned with a look of startled disbelief on his face. "No," he said incredulously, "that was a flash from Los Angeles. Jean Harlow just died!"

That's how the news came to us — one of those sharp, startling stabs that leave you momentarily stunned and incredulous.... There has been a notable series of those sudden flashes in recent years.... Rockne.. Paul Bern.. Will Rogers and Wiley Post.... John Gilbert, Richard Bolesalavsky, Irving Thalberg.... And Tex Guinan, and Lilyan Tashman.... There have been others.

AFTER the word came, I went back to the "morgue" and got out a picture that was published in the newspapers everywhere back sometime in 1932. It was the scene of a Hollywood wedding, and there were four people in it.... If you recall the one I mean, you'll remember Harlow, the radiant bride, cutting a wedding cake.... To the left stood the groom, Paul Bern, and near him was John Gilbert, come to stand up as best man for his friend.... The fourth person, and looking somewhat like Bern, was Irving Thalberg.

Bern was the first to go. Known as the "Father Confessor" of Hollywood, he was found dead, a suicide, in one of the most inexplicable tragedies in Hollywood history.... This was the man whom Barbara LaMarr had called "the understanding heart."

Then Gilbert, the restless and impetuous.... Unable to live without the world's adulation to feed on, he died alone and unattended, save by a paid nurse.

THE surprise, however, in the passing of this trio of men, all financial successes, was the death of Thalberg, although a few friends had long realized his failing health. He was "the boy genius of the industry," and he was outward bound before most people had any inclination that he was ill.

And finally Harlow herself, the platinum-haired kid who brought a new type of blond beauty to Hollywood and became a star.

It would be interesting to know the emotions of the man who caught those four within the scope of his camera on that night five years ago. But photographers, like extras in the Hollywood mill, come and go. I couldn't find a soul who remembered his name.

Chipmunk Banquet

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"WE HOPE we'll have something here that you'll like," said Miss Striped Chipmunk.

They gave Willy Nilly the seat of honor on top of an old log and they all sat around him, chattering, watching everything that was going on, being as busy as could be, while Willy Nilly told them he knew he would enjoy the banquet.

First of all they had a course of strawberries. Then they had some grass seed salad and next they had some nuts they had saved over from the winter.

"It it were later in the season we could give you some corn, or maybe some wheat, or perhaps some blueberries," said Mrs. Chipmunk. "We didn't think you'd enjoy snails or insects so we're not having them today."

"It has been a delicious banquet," said Willy Nilly later, and the chipmunks then ran races for him and showed how quickly they could run and climb and scamper.

"Dear me," said one of the other chipmunks when Willy Nilly thought it was time for him to leave, "we have some cherries for you as a special treat."

After Willy Nilly had finished the cherries he left the chipmunks, and they waved their tails and squealed their goodbys to him.

The Puddle Muddlers were waiting for him at the edge of the woods. He told them about his visit with the chipmunks and they told him all they had been doing and then he said:

"It is getting late. Let's find a nice place by some lake nearby or some river, and camp there for the night."

"There are lakes and ponds and rivers all around here," quacked Mrs. Quacko. "It is beautiful country."

Tomorrow—"The Silent One."

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Reforestation Project.

Jeffersonville, Ind.—A miniature grove of maple saplings transplanted from walls of the Chesterfield school. An investigation showed workmen who had repaired the school after the city flood had mixed the mortar under a maple tree.

Man Understands Electricity.

Sedalia, Mo. — Wires now mean something to C. N. Thomas' prize bull. Fences used to be known to be gone through without stopping.

Mr. Thomas put a charged wire around the paddock, and after receiving shocks the bull stayed strictly away. Even without the electricity, he's tame now, Thomas says, and regards any wire with askance.

Long Wait.

Van Buren, Ark.—A letter was delivered to Greenlee Jones Monday—12 years and 12 days after it had accidentally dropped behind a letter box.

Climax: The postman asked and Jones paid an extra cent postage because of the change in rates since 1925.

Anti-climax: The letter was a request for a loan from a friend in Oklahoma.

Monkey Business.

Rulo, Neb.—You might call this monkey business.

Mrs. Estalene Foster was fined $1 and costs on a charge of calling the town marshal "a monkey."

Police Judge N. J. Coonce raised the fine to $10 when he thought Mrs. Foster called him a monkey, too.

Mayor Normal Kermoade stepped in and ordered the fine suspended and Mrs. Foster freed.

But Coonce proved he assessed the fine while acting as a justice and not as police judge, so the $10 fine was effective.

Jamboree Players Named; Local Boys Have Parts in Plans

Washington, D. C. (Jamboree,)—June 30—The Ulster-Greene delegation is having a good time in Washington, D. C. Sunday morning the scouts of Region II attended church. Later in the day all of the scouts were examined by one of the doctors of the medical staff. After supper work was started on the gateway which has a picture of Rip Van Winkle on it. Monday morning the gateway was erected. That afternoon under the direction of Russel Broughton the scouts of Troop 25 visited the airport.

The scouts are enjoying delicious meals which are cooked in central kitchens. The scouts on K.P. duty get the food in thermos boxes and serve it to the troop on tables under the mess fly.

R. B. Broughton, assistant assistant scoutmaster, is in charge of the program. He is now working on a Rip Van Winkle play to be presented in the near future at a sectional campfire. The cast is as follows:

Rip Van Winkle—Charles Howard from Catskill
Mrs. Winkle—James O'Brien New Paltz
Gnomes — (Kingston) — Robert Jones, Richard Dumm, John Brinnier, Jack Clampert, John Larkin; (Saugerties) Ludwig Baumgarten; (Milton) David Bell; (New Paltz) Robert Glanz; (Phoenicia) Robert Breithaupt.
Rip's Dog—Julian Ronder
Rip's Daughter — Richard Bronson, Woodstock
Town's People—Balance of troop

The cheer of our Jamboree troop written by R. Broughton is:

Rip Rip Rip Van Winkle,
Troop 25 We Assemble,
Region II Section A.
Boy Scouts Boy Scouts, U.S.A.,
Jamboree! Jamboree! Jamboree!

Paul Nosowich, of Kingston, was appointed official log carrier and fire tender of Troop 25. He has to carve on the log certain data, guard it and place the log on the Jamboree fire, which is to be kept burning for the whole 10 days, during which the Jamboree is to be in session.

Fredrich Richter, of New Paltz, was appointed Troop scribe.

HOME FOR AGED NOW NEEDS A GOOD PIANO

The Home for the Aged is very much in need of a piano which the Board of Managers hope may be donated by some person who is in sympathy with the needs of this worthy institution. Many musical entertainments are given and services conducted, for which it is quite necessary to have adequate instrumental accompaniments. The pianos which were given some years ago by kind friends have now served their purpose and can no longer be put into good order.

Eighteen thousand high school students of Pittsburgh were questioned by the American Automobile Association last month as to their opinion of the value of traffic safety subjects in their curriculum. They selected subjects in the following order: Knowledge of laws; attitude toward laws; actual driving practice and mechanical knowledge of vehicles.

Conservation Law Changes

Albany, June 30—Among the changes in the Conservation Law to become effective this month is the one that sets back the open season on bullheads in Lake George. Under the terms of Chapter 375 of the Laws of 1937 the open season on this species of fish in that body of water now runs runs from July 15 to May 31, both dates inclusive. Heretofore the open season was from July 1 to December 31.

An open season for the trapping of raccoons in Albany county from November 1 to February 10, both dates inclusive, is now allowed as a result of another amendment to the Conservation Law.

Another change in the law now exempts Onieda Lake from the provisions of Section 253 of the Conservation Law requiring that an operator of tip-ups used in fishing through the ice be in attendance at all times when lines are in the water. Previously only Chautauqua Lake had been so exempted, but next winter Onieda Lake fishermen will not have to be in attendance on their lines.

Hunters of Tompkins county and vicinity have had the season on cottontail rabbits in that county shortened. Beginning this fall the open season there will be from the third Monday in October to January 31, both inclusive, instead of from the same opening date to March 31.

This year there will be an open season on fox squirrels. It will be identical with the season for black and gray squirrels—from the third Monday in October to the third Monday in November, both inclusive, except on Long Island, where the season will run from November 1 to December 31, both inclusive. There will be no open season in Niagara, Orleans or Genesee counties.

Under the terms of another amendment to the Conservation Law, otter and fisher may be propagated or kept under license from the Conservation Department.

He joined the University of Leyden faculty at 44 as professor of medicine and was highly successful there as lecturer, teacher, investigator and practitioner.

YERMAT IS BREWED FROM HERB IN SOUTH AMERICA

Yermat, a new carbonated drink, is being introduced in Kingston. For centuries Latin Americans have practically lived on this drink made from a native stimulating herb, Yerba Mate Yermat is brewed from the imported, genuine Yerba Mate leaf in exactly the same manner in which the drink is brewed in South America. It is said to have a kick which is non-alcoholic.

This new carbonated drink has been described as a sparkling topaz beverage of delicate aroma with an odd but bewitching flavor that grows more appealing drink by drink

High spots of pleasure...

Chesterfields add to the pleasure of anything you're doing because...
They're milder...refreshingly milder.
They taste better...a whole lot better.
And Chesterfield's aroma is more pleasing—different from all the rest.
For the high spots of smoking pleasure
—enjoy Chesterfields

..any pleasure is more pleasure with Chesterfields..

AND TALKS ON MATTERS MASCULINE

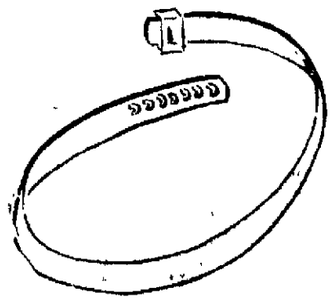

Tips on Fishing Garb

Many fishermen wear the so-called Africap "bush" shirt, cut for perfect freedom of action, and blessed with generous pockets which can be loaded with pipe, tobacco, flys, etc. This particular shirt is made of a specially constructed cotton fabric—very strong, light in weight and adequately water repellant.

Your shoesshou ld be comfortable as well as practical, such as these buckskin sneakers with heavy rope soles. Take along several pairs of socks. Medium weight, brushed wool are a good bet because they are not too hot, yet absorbent.

Here is an excellent leather belt. It has no buckle, but a series of flat hooks on the inside allows it ito he adjusted to fit any circumference. A comfort after a hearty meal in the open.

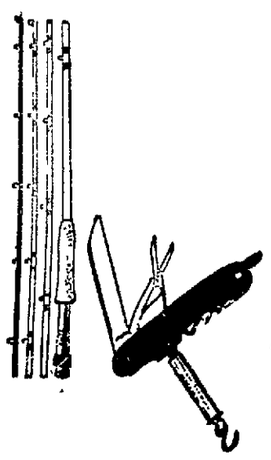

The lightweight flannel shirt in bright colored blazer stripes keeps you cheered up if you don't get a nibble. Or, if your tastes are more conservative, try a shirt of tan gabardine. You might also find good use for a lightweight wool sleeveless pull-over.

You may run into a number of windy days, so buy an ingenious metal top which fits over the top of any type pipe, and keeps the tobacco from scattering in the breeze.

Every good fisherman knows that the best fishing comes with wet weather. So he prepared with a silk oilskin jacket. Only about 6 ounces in weight, it can be crammed into your pocket when the sun comes out. If you buy a creel or fish basket, we suggest one with a neat, form-fitting, concave back. Far less bulky than the old standard shape.

If you are not a veteran fisherman, go to the best sporting goods shop in your town, tell them where you intend to fish and they'll choose suitable tackle to meet the conditions and fish to be encountered.

Esquire's eti-query

We have had a number of letters lately from young men, asking us what kind of a pipe we consider the best.

That, of course, is a difficult question as it is largely a matter of personal taste. We can, however, give you the principle types of pipes and the outstanding features of each. From there on, you are on your own!

The briarwood, or bruyere wood, pipe is most in demand, as it seems to be the most satisfactory smoke for the average smoker. Being porous, it is self-cooling and also absorbs the unpleasant tars which make a cheap pipe taste bitter. A briarwood pipe is especially hard - you'll find it difficult to crack.

An inveterate smoker prefers a meerschaum. This is strictly a pipe for indoor smoking, an ideal companion to a good book.

Meerschaums are very light weight, and a long smoke won't tire your jaws. Of course, nothing gives a man more pleasure than watching his favorite meerschaum gradually assume a rich color of rare beauty.

The clay pipe is one that is now relegated to pipe fanciers. There are many, however, who enjoy the long cool smoke of a Church Warden. Be sure that your clay pipe has a hard rubber mouthpiece because clay sticks to the lips.

The good old American corn cob is a consistent pal of the veteran pipe smoker. Made from a dried and processed corn cob, it is light - extremely porous - and gives a very sweet smoke. Usually made with a bone or reed mouthpiece.

TRUSS EXPERTS HERE

The Rice Truss Experts, personal representatives of William S. Rice, Inc., Adams, N. Y., will be at the Stuyvesant Hotel, Kingston, N. Y., afternoon and evening Friday, July 2, and all day Saturday, July 3. Every ruptured man, woman and child should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Rice Method for Reducible Rupture is known the world over. You can now see this Method demonstrated and have a Rice Appliance fitted to you. Absolutely no charge unless you are satisfied to keep the Outfit after having the Appliance adjusted and you see how perfectly and comfortably it holds. No harsh, deep-pressing, springs; nothing to gouge the flesh and make you sore.

Wear this Appliance for a full fifteen days' trial and accompany its wearing with the use of Lymphol Stimulating Application. If you are not perfectly satisfied at the end of that time, return it.

Thousands have reported recovery through using the Rice Method. Why suffer the burden of reducible rupture if there is a chance to be free from truss-wearing? Anyway, it will cost you nothing to come in and learn all about the Rice Method and the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just ask at hotel desk for the Rice Representatives and they will do the rest. Hours 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., or 7 to 9 evenings.

What They Wear Is Somebody's Business

Some cities offer apparel sales with a silken lining. This fact is particularly true of Kingston.

In Kingston, retail apparel sales total $1,255,000.00 annually — an increase of $227,000.00 within two years' time.

$227,000.00 increase in buying-power represents Kingston's fast developing desires for better clothes and more of them.

In Kingston, feminine fancy seeks gay fineries in addition to simple frocks, apparel with chiffoned charm as well as calicoed utility. Newspaper advertising is the city-wide shopping mirror into which ladies like to look.

Remember, what they wear is somebody's business. Newspaper advertising in full fashion style and appearance—makes it yours!

This is the ninth advertisement in a series to inform advertisers on Kingston's Buying-Power in important classifications of business. Read and keep these advertisements.

Reflect group displays in your newspaper presentations, the same as in your store. A well-chosen selection of new and becoming style ideas attract both men and women.

Most men now keep steady company with smart attire. They know that success smiles upon fine appearance. Interest them in approved combinations and colors for complete wardrobe harmony. Make your newspaper advertisements informative for consistent customer calls.

HER AND AMY

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

(The Moss Feature Syndicate, Greensboro, N. C.)

It is a lot easier to attract attention than to earn respect.

Gretchen—Weren't you thrilled when you looked down into the depths of the Grand Canyon?

Eloise—Yes, the guide had his arms around me.

A man may fail at everything else he undertakes, but when he starts out to make a fool of himself he is sure to make a whale of a success.

A young subaltern joined a guards' depot, his upper lip as yet unadorned with even the suspicion of down. The adjutant sent for him:

Adjutant—You must grow a mustache.

Subaltern—Yes, sir.

Adjutant—And not one of those Chaplin affairs—a proper mustache.

Subaltern—Yes, sir.

The interview was finished, but the subordinate did not move.

Adjutant—Well, what more do you want?

Subaltern—Any particular color, sir?

A man isn't always the answer to a maiden's prayer. Maybe it was her mother and father's prayers that were answered.

Mrs. Junewed—I'm going out to buy a book.

Her Friend—A book?

Mrs. Junewed—Yes, my husband bought me the most adorable reading lamp yesterday.

A man defines marriage, thusly: "Either the husband can't keep the wife in clothes or she can't keep him in nights."

Republican—I see where the Republican Publicity Director is paid $15,000 a year. Isn't that a lot of money for such a job?

Democrat—Well, nursing a sick elephant is a big job!

Success and excess never make a good team.

Alyne—Do you know Miss Smith?

Jack—Certainly, for years—we used to be the same age when we were children.

READ IT OR NOT—

Whales do not spout water.

Hubby—What possessed you to choose lemon color for your new dress?

Wife—Because I had such a job squeezing it out of you.

Keep believing that your town offers the most for the future, you'll have everybody else believing it too.

Two small girls were playing together one afternoon:

First Girl—I wonder what time it is?

Second Girl—Well, it can't be 4 o'clock yet, because my mother said I was to be home at 4, and I'm not.

If more of us said what we thought there would be less conversation.

Father (sternly)—Don't you ever worry about how you will spend your old age?

Prodigal—Why, Dad, by that time what else will I have to spend.

Many people think they are terribly abused when they are merely getting what is coming to them.

Her—Don't you think a bigamist ought to be locked up?

Him—Yes, if he prefers it.

The only regret some men have is not that they have but one wife but that they cannot give her for their country.

Friend—Now that you have pulled all of Fred's teeth, I suppose you are through with him?

Dentist—Not yet. The bill has yet to be extracted, you know.

Clipped from an exchange: "It is no disgrace to not know the answers to all the fool questions you are asked."

'First Lady' Opens Thursday Night at Maverick Theatre

Beginning Thursday night and with an extra performance on Monday night, July 5, the Maverick Players of Woodstock will present "The First Lady," starring Velma Royton with a supporting cast of 25 persons.

Robert Elwyn, managing director of the Maverick Theatre, told a Freeman reporter today that about 1,000 persons attended the opening performances of the season last week when the cast presented "The Bishop Misbehaves."

"The First Lady" promises to be as good, if not better, than the opening production, because the Players, stimulated by their success last week have gone through rehearsals with an unprecedented enthusiasm. The play is under good auspices, also, because Miss Royton is as finished a performer as Frank Rothe.

Last week members of the Lowell Club, of this city, were guests of Mr. Elwyn and the Maverick Players at the opening production and were very enthusiastic.

Patrons are asked to specially notice the fact that this week, because July 4 will be celebrated on Monday, an extra performance will be given.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Controversy of the film week centers about Mervyn LeRoy's new picture, based on Ward Greene's novel, "Death In The Deep South."

Gloria Dickson

Most of Hollywood agreed that it was gripping drama, well-acted, well-directed, speedily paced. Ground for argument was to what extent LeRoy has stuck his chin out in the direction of Dixie, and how the box-office in those parts will decorate that chin.

Latest title for the piece is "They Won't Forget."

The story, with some changes, parallels that of the celebrated Leo Frank murder trial in Atlanta in 1912. Frank, a Jew from the north, went to an Atlanta pencil factory. In the factory one day a girl was murdered. Frank was indicted, tried, convicted—but not before the whole country was stirred to controversial frenzy. A northern detective and a northern attorney joined the defense, and the charge of prejudice was heard everywhere. The governor commuted Frank's sentence to life imprisonment. Frank was lynched.

Stirs Prejudices

The locale of the film is Flodden, a mythical southern city. Edward Norris is the northern boy who teaches in the business college where Mary Clay (Lana Turner) is found murdered. For political purposes a district attorney (Claude Rains) is determined to win an important conviction. Southern—and northern—prejudices are stirred and in the end Gloria Dickson, the northern victim's wife, charges that her husband has been the pawn between their antipathies.

This charge is the theme of the film. It is stated, however, only after a movie mirror has been held up to a Dixie that is not entirely magnolia and honeysuckle.

Discovers New Talent

It will be interesting to watch the reception. Meanwhile, the producer has unearthed a couple of genuine finds in Gloria Dickson, a young leading lady of much emotional depth and sincerity, and Allyn Joslyn, a lanky character actor who as the reporter gives his role, unpleasant at best, a certain grim humor. You'll remember, Norris, too, Lana Turner, an attractive unknown, and Clinton Rosemond's performance as the suspected negro.

Brilliantly theatrical in a theatric role is Claude Rains, of England, whose "southern accent" jells less than most of the others.

PREVIEWED

Broadway: "Make Way for Tomorrow." One of the best selling novels of the last few years becomes this season's cinema masterpiece at the Broadway in a real and poignant story that reaches the heart of almost every American family. The question of the aging parents, what the children are to do in the matter of supporting them in the sunset of their lives, these matters of such concern are handled with a warm and delicate touch in "Make Way for Tomorrow." For the play tells of two old folks who are forced to be separated after living together for 50 years. One goes to the family of a daughter, the other to the family of a son. The separation, the loss of their home, the realization that they are burdens upon their unwanting children, all work toward the play's eventual solution to the problem. Victor Moore is brilliant in his first serious screen role and Beulah Bondi lends excellent support along with Fay Bainter and Barbara Read. A Paramount picture.

Kingston: "The Case of the Stuttering Bishop" and "As Good as Married." Double features continue at the Kingston, the first a murder mystery with an unusual plot, the second a romantic comedy of average entertainment value. Donald Woods and Ann Dvorak are featured in the mystery melodrama while John Boles and Doris Nolan are the stars of the other attraction.

Orpheum: "That Girl from Paris." A blend of opera, jazz and comedy are to be seen and heard at the Orpheum with Lily Pons, Gene Raymond and Jack Oakie co-featured in a story of a budding singer who is helped along by a couple of American boys to reach her goal. The music is good, the acting above average and the comedy is unusually well staged.

AND TALKS ON MATTERS MASCULINE

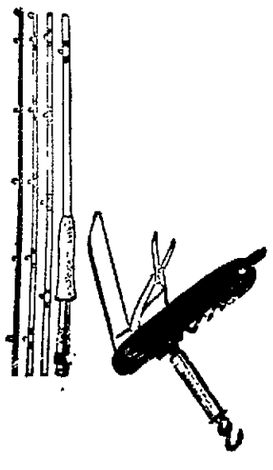

Many fishermen wear the so-called African "bush" shirt, cut for perfect freedom of action, and blessed with generous pockets which can be loaded with pipe, tobacco, flys, etc. This particular shirt is made of a specially constructed cotton fabric—very strong, light in weight and adequately water repellant.

Here is an excellent leather belt. It has no buckle, but a series of flat hooks on the inside allows it ito be adjusted to fit any circumference. A comfort after a hearty meal in the open.

Every good fisherman knows that the best fishing comes with wet weather. So he prepared with a silk oilskin jacket. Only about 6 ounces in weight, it can be crammed into your pocket when the sun comes out. If you buy a creel or fish basket, we suggest one with a neat, form-fitting, concave back. Far less bulky than the old standard shape.

If you are not a veteran fisherman, go to the best sporting goods shop in your town, tell them where you intend to fish and they'll choose suitable tackle to meet the conditions and fish to be encountered.

Tips on Fishing Garb

Your shoesshou ld be comfortable as well as practical, such as these buckskin sneakers with heavy rope soles. Take along several pairs of socks. Medium weight, brushed wool are a good bet because they are not too hot, yet absorbent.

The lightweight flannel shirt in bright colored blazer stripes keeps you cheered up if you don't get a nibble. Or, if your tastes are more conservative, try a shirt of tan gabardine. You might also find good use for a lightweight wool sleeveless pull-over.

You may run into a number of windy days, so buy an ingenious metal top which fits over the top of any type pipe, and keeps the tobacco from scattering in the breeze.

Esquire's eti-query

We have had a number of letters lately from young men, asking us what kind of a pipe we consider the best.

That, of course, is a difficult question as it is largely a matter of personal taste. We can, however, give you the principle types of pipes and the outstanding features of each. From there on, you are on your own!

The briarwood, or bruyere wood, pipe is most in demand, as it seems to be the most satisfactory smoke for the average smoker. Being porous, it is self-cooling and also absorbs the unpleasant tars which make a cheap pipe taste bitter. A briarwood pipe is especially hard - you'll find it difficult to crack.

An inveterate smoker prefers a meerschaum. This is strictly a pipe for indoor smoking, an ideal companion to a good book.

Meerschaums are very light weight, and a long smoke won't tire your jaws. Of course, nothing gives a man more pleasure than watching his favorite meerschaum gradually assume a rich color of rare beauty.

The clay pipe is one that is now relegated to pipe fanciers. There are many, however, who enjoy the long cool smoke of a Church Warden. Be sure that your clay pipe has a hard rubber mouthpiece because clay sticks to the lips.

The good old American corn cob is a consistent pal of the veteran pipe smoker. Made from a dried and processed corn cob, it is light - extremely porous - and gives a very sweet smoke. Usually made with a bone or reed mouthpiece.

O'CONNELL CASE PUT OVER UNTIL JULY 7

Binghamton, N. Y., June 30 (AP).—A week's suspension of the trial of eight men for the 1933 abduction of John J. O'Connell, Jr., gave defense counsel additional opportunity today to prepare its case, expected to take at least three weeks.

Federal Judge Frederick H. Bryant recessed the trial late yesterday until next Wednesday, July 7, to permit him to hear motions in other cases at Malone.

The defense, opening its case yesterday after 18 days of government testimony, had called only one witness—Louis Snyder, Albany attorney—when the recess was ordered.

Snyder testified that the victim did not recognize any of his abductors immediately after his release on July 29, 1933, 23 days after he was seized outside his Albany home.

O'Connell, on the witness stand during the government's case, said he saw Manning Strewl, one of the defendants, in the Hoboken, N. J., hideout where he was purportedly held, and that he recognized John Oley and Percy Geary, two other defendants, as among the group which abducted him.

Southern California, often damaged by forest fires, has decided to start fighting them before they break out. CCC men, cooperating with fire wardens, will be called out on a series of false alarms but will go through all the motions of fighting a serious blaze.

U. S. and England To Cooperate in Monetary Control

The new French government was granted full power, by the Chamber of Deputies, to take necessary action to prevent threatened financial collapse. It must still have the consent of the French Senate. Developments indicate that France will withdraw from the tri-partite agreement, allowing the franc to seek its own level, there will be an increase of the government's power to borrow from the Bank of France and drastic increases in taxation.

Despite the withdrawal of France the U. S. and England are expected to announce continued cooperation on monetary control.

Paris markets remained closed, with indications that the holiday would be extended. London market averaged slightly lower in light trading.

Stocks showed a slight gain in New York, with 550,000 shares dealt in. Industrials advanced 0.40 point on the Dow-Jones average; rails were up 0.38 and utilities gained 0.11. Corporate bonds were a little lower; governments gained slightly.

Led by Liverpool world wheat markets boomed yesterday, the price rising nearly nine cents in Liverpool. Factors in the advance were reports of a probable low crop in Canada—200,000,000 bushels, compared with 229,000,000 last year and 282,000,000 in 1935; indications of a European crop no larger than last year and additional reports of rust damage in this country.

U. S. Steel is seen clearing the way for resumption of dividend payments on common. Directors yesterday paid an additional $2 on accumulations against preferred stock. This brings arrearages on preferred down to $1.25 a share, or a total of $4,503,514. It is considered possible that at the meeting on July 27 back dividends will be cleared up and the regular quarterly dividend on preferred of $1.75 will be paid.

Atchison announced payment of $2 on common shares. Holland Furnace ordered $1 payment on common vs. 25 cents previously.

Dominion Textile, Ltd., reported net of $1,673,538, or $5.69 a common share, in the year ended March 31, vs. net of $1,124,961, of $3.66 a share in previous year.

Earnings of Armour & Co. for the second half of fiscal year, ending October 31, are placed at approximately $7,000,000, or 80 cents a common share.

General Tire & Rubber sales and earnings for six months ended May 31 are expected to be substantially above a year ago.

Tax Evasion Told Senate Committee

1935 rents received by the corporation aggregated $99,666 and operating expenses paid by the company, exclusive of taxes, $453,750—representing a net loss on operations of $354,083.

Savings Smaller

Due solely to the fact that the large volume of investment securities transferred to the corporation were producing relatively little income in the five years, Kent said, the tax savings to the Taylors had been much smaller than in some other cases. For the five years, the witness added, these savings appear to have been between $4,400 and $16,800, depending upon whether they were computed in respect to Mrs. Taylor's or Mr. Taylor's return.

In quick succession, Kent named John Hay Whitney of New York, Mrs. Nathan L. Miller, wife of former Governor Miller of New York, C. R. Lindbeck of Philadelphia, president of a large dairy concern, and Mrs. Ethel Mars of River Forest, Ill., as others who had effected substantial tax savings through use of the incorporation device.

How About "Nourmahal"

After Kent had discussed two yacht cases, Representative Crowther, (R.-N. Y.), asked whether the treasury had considered the yacht Nourmahal. Crowther did not name the owner.

(President Roosevelt has been a guest of Vincent Astor on cruises aboard a yacht named the Nourmahal.)

Kent said the department had the names of some other yachts and was trying to obtain information about their incorporation. He said he could check the Nourmahal.

Seven Persons Shot In Back

the plant as Republic once again ignored CIO's siege. In addition to the pickets at the intersection, there were others at the Eighth street gate.

Before the dawn came, National Guard reenforcements filed into the mill area, opening the way to a return to work of about 3,600 men who now could join, if they wanted to, those 2,000 self-interned workmen who have kept one of Republic's plants here in operation throughout the strike's 35 tumultuous days.

It was here at Canton that the Steel Strike began with barricades and picket lines after the corporation declined CIO's demand for a signed contract.

Steel Plants to Open

Tomorrow morning, at Indiana Harbor, Ind., more steel plants will open, the Inland Steel Company announced. But CIO's Van A. Bittner, regional director there, said the union would "Do everything possible to stop the plant from opening;" that 99 per cent of the 13,000 inland steel employes were members of CIO.

Both sides were silent concerning President Roosevelt's comment that he believed the majority of people's opinion of strikers and steel companies alike was well summarized in Shakespeare's line: "A plague on both your houses."

White House spokesmen were quick to point out, however, that the President had not meant the comment as applicable to both sides in general, but rather to the extremists of both sides.

A White House official, who declined to be quoted by name, when asked a further interpretation of "extremists," said the President meant those who want violence and a fight and those who will not negotiate.

He added it did not include employers and employes, organized or unorganized, who constitute the great majority and who do not believe in violence and who are honestly willing to pursue collective bargaining in the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

"Get Out of Town."

On the strike's youngest front, Johnstown, Pa., the mayor and city council told the strike leaders to get out of town for their own safety. The city, said Mayor Daniel J. Shields, could not longer be responsible for the safety of the union men, CIO sub-regional Director James Mark and C. W. Jones, vice president of the striking local Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Mark replied with a prompt "No," and sent an immediate appeal to Governor Earle to clamp martial law on the area once more. It was martial law, since lifted, that forced the closing of Bethlehem's Steel's plant here with its 15,000 employes.

The plant, which subsequently reopened and was operating—its manager said—at near normal, is now shut because of dynamite blasts which ripped water lines yesterday, forcing closing "indefinitely," although repairs are being hurried.

John Form to Speak

John Form, manager of the Social Security Board Office, at 277 Fair street, will speak at an open meeting sponsored by the Carpenters and Joiners Union, Kingston Local, No. 251, on the general subject of the Social Security Act and what it means to labor, on Friday, July 2, at Odd Fellows Hall, it was announced today. All workers, organized or unorganized, all members of trade associations, and the public are invited to attend.

FOUR MEN HOPE FOR STAY OF EXECUTION AT SING SING

Ossining, June 30 (AP).—Time dragged today for four men in Sing Sing's death house, each hoping for a gubernatorial reprieve from electrocutions scheduled for tomorrow night for the slaying of a Brooklyn bar and grill customer during a holdup.

Raymond Norton, 25, was most hopeful. Hundreds of persons in Greater New York have signed a petition asking Governor Lehman to grant him mercy for his part in the killing of Isaac Shain, 55, on November 8, 1935.

Norton was convicted six months ago with Anthony Carlaus, 34, alleged to have done the actual shooting; Watson Edwards, 26; and Harry Eisenberg, 44.

Today Warden Lewis E. Lawes sent out invitations to 12 persons required by law to witness executions.

Held for the Grand Jury

Alfred Lukach, 21, of Highland, was committed to the county jail Tuesday to await the action of the grand jury, after arraignment before Justice U. Parker Decker on a charge of rape. He was arrested by Sergeant Hulse and Trooper Baker.

Hearing on July 15 For Robert Irwin; Crowd Jeers Him

New York, June 30 (AP).—A crowd of several hundred persons, many of them women and children, swarmed around the Mott street entrance to Homicide Court on the lower east side today and booted and jeered at sight of Robert Irwin, 29-year old sculptor, named in three indictments as the Easter Sunday killer of Beekman Hill.

Handcuffed to two policemen, Irwin, still wearing the rumpled white suit he had on when he was arrested Sunday in Chicago, frowned and puffed at a cigarette. He appeared to be slightly nervous as the policemen hustled him through the crowd.

His appearance in court was mearly a step in the preliminary formalities necessary before he is brought to trial for the murders of Veronica Gedeon, lovely artists' model, her mother, Mrs. Mary Gedeon, and their lodger, Frank Byrnes.

Taken from his cell in gloomy old Tombs Prison, Irwin was sped to Homicide court and brought before Magistrate Alexander Brough.

Samuel S. Leibowitz, nationally known criminal lawyer, whom Irwin retained as counsel before he was flown from the Middle West, stood at the prisoner's side but made no remarks, as assistant District Attorney Max Weider asked discharge on the short affidavit, on which Irwin was arrested.

The proceedings were brief. The Magistrate discharged the short affidavit, a department of correction officer arrested Irwin on a bench warrant, and he was hustled out of the building into a prison van and taken to Mercer street station for booking.

Will Ask Osborn To Help in Search

Stony Brook, N. Y., June 30 (AP)—Assistant District Attorney Lindsay Henry, of Suffolk county, said today he would ask Albert D. Osborn, handwriting expert of the Lindbergh kidnaping and other outstanding criminal cases, to assist in investigating the strange disappearance of Mrs. Alice McDonnel Parsons.

Henry said he would show Osborn a photostatic copy of the ransom note found after Mrs. Parsons disappeared June 9.

The note, demanding $25,000, found by Bert Walker, a county investigator, several hours after police were called in by Mrs. Parsons husband, William H. Parsons, pigeon paste maker, has been closely guarded by federal agents.

Except for their first glimpse of it early on the morning of June 10, county officials have not seen the note until today, when photostatic copies were furnished by the G-Men to state police, Brookhaven town police, the Suffolk county sheriff's office and the district attorney's office.

They were sentenced to five days each in the county jail when arraigned before Judge Culloton in police court. Carl F. Schenck of West Hurley, charged with having no operator's license, forfeited $5 bail. Frank Allen of Albany, arrested on a charge of public intoxication will have a hearing later.

"Eddie the Sailor" No. 1 Suspect in Death of 3 Girls

Inglewood, Calif., June 30 (AP).—A man, identified only as "Eddie the Sailor" by police, became suspect No. 1 today in the search for the degenerate slayer of the three little Inglewood girls. Rewards totalling $3,500 spurred the hunt for the fiend's capture.

"Eddie the Sailor," police learned, almost succeeded in luring two more girls into his automobile Saturday—the day Madeline Everett, 7, her sister, Melba, 9, and Jeanette Marjorie Stephens, 8, were slain.

Lillian Popp, 11, told officers she and her cousin almost joined the three victims in what "Eddie the Sailor" represented was going to be a rabbit hunt in the hills.

"When we reached the car, I kicked my cousin and reminded her, in whispers, what her mother had told her about going riding with a strange man," Lillian said. "So we didn't go, but Melba and Jeanette and Madeline got into the car with him."

Authorities said the crimes were still far from solution.

They know the kidnapings and murders were the work of a sexual pervert. That was established definitely by the report of the county autopsy surgeon, who examined the ravished bodies.

Greenkill Park Is Headquarters for Divine Movement

According to hand bills being circulated by the Angels of Father Divine, the negro cult leader of Harlem, the "official opening of the universal international headquarters at Greenkill Park will be held on Thursday, July 8, 1937, A. D. F. D."

The event is planned as the grand official opening and the steamer State of Delaware will leave the pier at 132nd street in New York city on Thursday morning, July 8, at 7 o'clock.

First reports were that two steamers would leave New York with the Angels, but according to the handbill only one steamer will convey the Divine followers to Kingston. The steamer will berth at the stone dock in the Rondout creek and the Angels will be routed out of the city through Abeel street, under present plans of the police department. At police headquarters it was stated there would be no parade and no request for a permit to stage a parade had been asked.

Police Board Met And Examined 2 Witnesses Today

The board of police commissioners met at the city hall this morning to hear evidence in the charges that had been lodged against Officer Walter Fitzgerald, who was represented at the hearing by Attorney Andrew J. Cook. Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin appeared in behalf of the police board and examined two witnesses, who reside in Albany.

The hearing today was held behind closed doors, and the evidence presented was not made public.

Owing to the fact that Corporation Counsel Cashin had another important meeting with the board of education today in regard to plans for eliminating congestion in the city's schools, only two witnesses were examined and the hearing was adjourned until next week.

Pending the outcome of the hearing, Officer Fitzgerald has been suspended from duty by Chief of Police J. Allan Wood.

Ulster Sheriff Attends Sing Sing Guard Graduation

Sheriff Abram Molyneaux, of Ulster county, was one of the guests of the Central Guard School graduation exercises held at Sing Sing Prison Tuesday. There were addresses by Governor Lehman and Commissioner of Correction Edward P. Mulrooney, who issued invitations to the affair. The Governor said that the Guard School is the foundation of "a career service" in the prison employment system.

The exercises were conducted on the baseball field at Sing Sing, as being more accessible than Wallkill Prison, where the Guard School is located.

The exercises included drills, a demonstration of ways of handling men, and what to do when attacked by men armed with knives, clubs, etc., and other features. A 70-piece band furnished music and Governor Lehman gave out diplomas to the graduates, who will be assigned to various institutions throughout the state.

Local Death Record

Robert S. Wey died at the Benedictine Hospital today in his 76th year. Funeral services will be held from the H. Lee Breithaupt and Brother Funeral Home in Phoenicia on Friday morning at 10 o'clock with burial in Catskill.

The funeral of Timothy Lowney, who died at an early hour on Monday, was held from the parlors of James V. Halloran, 44 Broadway, this morning at 8:45 o'clock, thence to St. Mary's Church, where at 9 o'clock a Mass was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Banjamin C. Roth. Burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery, where the final absolution was given by the Rev. James P. Moore.

Marlborough, June 30.—The many friends of the late Rev. Robert Knapp of Wingdale were sorry to hear of his death in his home last week. He had been in failing health for some time. The Rev. Mr. Knapp was born in Haverstraw, the son of Hiram and Susan Rose Knapp, and he began his ministry in 1889 at Hyde Park. He served in the Marlborough Methodist Church from 1911 to 1921. It was during the Rev. Mr. Knapp's pastorate in Marlborough that the old M. E. Church burned. While the fire was raging the Rev. Mr. Knapp made heroic attempts to save records which were in the building. He was restrained from doing so by other people at the scene of the blaze. The Presbyterian Church was opened to the Rev. Mr. Knapp and his congregation and for a short time union services were held. Grateful as he was to the Presbyterians for their services and sympathy, the Rev. Mr. Knapp was determined to provide a new place of worship for his followers and within a brief space of time after the fire, a tabernacle was built and here the Methodists held services until the present church was built. The Rev. Mr. Knapp worked tirelessly raising money among all local people and it was largely through his efforts that the present church was built. During his years in Marlborough he endeared himself to hundreds of people who deeply regret his death.

SEN. DESMOND ADVOCATES 5 FINANCIAL REFORMS FOR NEW YORK STATE TODAY

Albany, N. Y., June 30 (AP).—Five financial reforms designed to end "living on the cuff" were advocated for New York state today by State Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican.

In a prepared statement, Desmond said that "the close of the state's fiscal year today with an accumulated six-year deficit of approximately $20,000,000 and a bonded debt of more than $500,000,000, emphasizes the need for revising the state's financial policies."

Reforms which he said were "sorely needed" included beginning of the fiscal year on April 1 rather than July 1, preparation of a long term capital outlay budget, and the state's operation on a "pay-as-you-go basis instead of a bond-as-you-go basis."

Desmond also urged establishment of a permament legislative commission of accounts and investigation "to study and report methods of reducing expenditures and increasing the efficiency of state departments."

He also renewed his plea for limiting the legislature in even numbered years to consideration only of appropriated bills and emergency measures.

Change of the fiscal year to April 1, Desmond said, would reduce temporary borrowings, permit more equitable distribution of tax payments, compel the budget to be for a full fiscal year and permit "accurate forecasting of revenues and expenditures."

U.S. Retains Ryder Cup Today, 8 to 4

Southport, Eng., June 30 (AP).—Scoring its first victory in British soil, the United States Ryder Cup team today retained the international golf trophy by defeating Great Britain's picked team of professionals, 8 to 4.

The triumph, first for either side on the other team's home grounds, brought the standing in the series that was begun in 1927 to four matches for the Americans and two for the British.

Most decisive of the five U. S. victories in today's singles matches was scored by Open Champion Ralph Guldahl, who routed the British champion, Alf Padgham, by 8 and 7. But it was Gene Sarazen, veteran of each of the past five teams, who brought home the point that assured the invaders of retaining the trophy, and another veteran, Ed Dudley, who came in with the victory that put the Americans out in front to stay.

Budge Takes 4-Set Match from Parker

Wimbledon, Eng., June 30 (AP).—Red-headed Don Budge swept into the final round of the All-England tennis championships today but dropped a set before he could subdue young Frankie Parker of Milwaukee 2-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1. It was the first set Budge had lost on his current British tennis invasion.

Parker's chop-strokes had Budge helpless at first but the red-head came through in convincing style. Parker put up a brilliant battle through the second and third sets, leading 3-2 at one stage of the third set, but was helpless before Budge's fiery drives in the final stanza.

Budge's opponent in the finals will be either Henry Wilred (Bunny) Austin of England or Baron Gottfried Von Cramm of Germany, who was beaten for the title a year ago by Fred Perry, now a professional.

SCOUT TROOP HOLDS FIRST INVESTITURE

Sunday evening, June 27, Boy Scout Troop No. 11 of St. James Church held its first investiture ceremony. Theron Culver, chairman of the troop committee, presided. At this service the following boys were admitted into the troop: Oscar Hawksley, William Kinch, Lewis Roosa, and William Ford who was transferred from Troop No. 7. After the ceremony was completed the Rev. Arthur Carroll made a few remarks in regard to small cities having the proper opportunities and environment for young people, often developing noted men and women. The Rev. Mr. Carroll also gave a summary of the troop's progress since it first started, February 26, 1937. He praised the people of the church for sponsoring such an organization.

Overcrowding is the most common fault in arranging flowers. The individual beauty of the blossoms is lost when there are too many to view. Simplicity in arrangement is most beautiful.

Plan Reduction Of Toll Charges On Two Bridges

At a special meeting of the New York State Bridge Authority held at the Catskill Savings Bank Monday afternoon, at which were present Chairman Addison P. Jones, of Catskill, Robert Hoe, of Poughkeepsie, and Raymond D. Kennedy, of Hudson, a new schedule of tolls for the Rip Van Winkle Bridge at Catskill and the Mid-Hudson Bridge at Poughkeepsie was agreed upon.

It was decided to fix a flat rate of 50 cents for an automobile on both bridges, eliminating all charges for passengers in a car. Existing tolls are 80 cents for a car and driver and 10 cents additional for each passenger, with a maximum charge of $1.

Must Be Approved

These new tolls are subject to the approval of State Comptroller Morris S. Tremaine and Col. Frederick Stuart Greene, Superintendent of Public Works. Mr. Tremaine, as State Comptroller, holds the bridge bonds.

Rates for trucks and foot passengers were also discussed, and a complete schedule of tolls will be submitted to Mr. Tremaine and Col. Greene and if approved, they will be published.

The way for a reduction of tolls on these two bridges was paved by a bill introduced by State Senator Frederic Bontecou, of Dutchess county, passed by the last Legislature and signed by Governor Lehman.

The Authority held a meeting last week and discussed a reduction of bridge tolls, but came to only a tentative agreement.

It is believed that the proposed new rates will be approved and will go into effect soon.

In the cases of Frank E. Baldwin and David Hr e, charged with having held up the caretaker at the Hepworth fruit stand at Marlborough on September 26, last, County Judge Frederick G. Traver postponed imposition of sentence until afternoon at 2 o'clock and recessed the court until that hour. It is charged that the two men held up one, Brooks, with a gun and took some $30 and then disappeared. Hargrove was recently returned from Clinton, N. C.

Both men are under indictment charging grand larceny, second degree, and also robbery, first degree. Baldwin pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny, second degree, and Hargrove pleaded to the robbery, first degree, charge. Michael Nardone appeared as counsel in both cases.

Asked if they waived the usual two days before sentence, Hargrove said he did and he wanted to "have it over with."

Schoolboy Bush and Paul Misove Engage In Nine-Inning Battle

Joe Dulin Clouts Long Drive for Circuit Dash—Eddie Minasian Misses Homer When He Falls in Last Inning.

Grunenwald's Home Leaders and Hedricks' Brewers went to bat again in a City League contest at the Athletic Field, Tuesday evening and once again they finished in a 4-4 deadlock for the second time in a row. But on this occasion the teams gave a capacity crowd extra extertainment by playing an overtime game.

And, instead of the game having a large bearing on the standings of the clubs as figured, it left matters just as undecided as ever and it looks as though the boys will battle it to the end of the first half before a winner is determined.

In the early part of the game it appeared as if the Bakers would have an easy win, but later developments changed the aspect of the whole affair.

Paul Misove, instead of Toddy Uhl, took the mound for the Home Leaders and would have won going away if he could have thrown out the fifth inning when the Brewers fell on him for four of their seven hits to score three runs.

Schoolboy Bush again was on the mound for the Brewers. And with the exception of being unable to locate the plate at times he pitched a very good game. He managed to keep the Bakers away from home after the second frame but found himself in some pretty tough spots. Both pitchers went the entire route.

Joe Dulin, first baseman of the Bakers, hit the longest home run of the season. It was a terrific clout that cleared the cars in deep right field and he circled the bases easily before the ball was retrieved.

Eddie Minasian also hit a hard one in the last inning and might have had another homer if he hadn't fallen after leaving second base. His hit went over the foul flag in left field. The Bakers had an excellent opportunity to win the game then but foozled a squeeze play, Minasian being nipped at the plate.

The Brewers took advantage of two Baker errors to score the first run in the first inning. Niles singled to start the game and went to second on a wild pitch. Kelder grounded to Didzik and he fumbled the ball long enough to allow Niles to register.

The Home Leaders took the lead in their half of the first on a single by Purvis and Dulin's circuit clout.

Bush had a terrible spell of wildness in the second inning and it almost ruined him. He walked Didzik and Flanagan to start. Then Misove forced Didzik at third but Minasian also drew a pass. Purvis grounded to Niles and he juggled the ball to let Flanagan register. Dulin received the fourth walk of the frame and Misove brought home the final Home Leader run.

Misove seemed to be headed for the showers in the fifth inning for the Brewers peppered him plenty, but he staggered through and finished strong. Bush led with a single to center field. Niles followed with a single to left field and Kelder was robbed of a hit when Dulin knocked down his hard drive. Bush dented the rubber on the play. Embree also singled and Niles scored. Van Etten forced Embree at second and McLean was hit by a pitched ball. Berardi doubled to right field to chase Van Etten home with the tying run.

Minasian missed a chance of collecting Bob Freer's $5 bill when he slipped in the last inning.

Gadd's catch of Short's fly in the fourth and Purvis' spectacular playing at shortstop were bright spots.

Another feature of the game was Flanagan's throw-in in the first inning to cut off a runner and choke a Brewers' rally.

Eddie Coughlin, district manager of Kendall's 2000-mile oil, has offered five gallons of his fine product for the next homer.

Home Leaders and Kyanize tonight.

Home Leaders and Kyanize In City Loop Feud Tonight

This evening's offering in the City Baseball League will show the Grunenwald Home Leaders against the Kyanize Painters, a diamond match that is expected to draw a capacity attendance to the Athletic Field for the tilt at 6:30 o'clock.

Last week the Home Leaders managed to edge out the Painters by the slim margin of 1-0. Toddy Uhl was on the mound for the Bakers and turned in a neat job for the crowd of fans.

Manager Charlie Diers of the Gurnies sair this morning that Uhl is in shape to repeat tonight, and that as far as his club is concerned the city league patrons can look for another stellar affair.

Jimmy Merritt, an outfielder by trade, turned pitcher to oppose Uhl last week, and was no slouch on the hill. Just to prove it was not "spell" on his part, Jim went to Revena Sunday and limited the home club to three hits.

Boss Jack Dawkins says that the old Br'r King's arm is just right and has a lot of faith in his flinging. However he would not say whether Merritt would definitely start against the Bakers tonight.

"Don't forget", said Dawkins, "I have Leo Komosa too, and I'm liable to trot him out against the Doughboys".

Komosa is one of the mound stars of the City League, and in fact of Ulster county, this season, so the Gurnies probably will offer an extra prayer that he won't appear to serve 'em up this evening.

Tonight's game means a lot to the Home Leaders. If they win they have a chance to go into a tie for first place. On the other hand, the contest is as important to the Kyanizers because they need a win to stay in the race.

Aside from the pitchers, the teams will take the field with all of their regulars in the usual positions.

Freeman Presents Trophy for City League Champion

The Freeman Publishing Company, publishers of The Kingston Daily Freeman, will see to it that the City Baseball League champions for 1937 receive a suitable trophy at the end of the season.

This bit of information comes from the league secretary, John Hartman, who stated this morning that there would be no doubt of this year's winners not receiving a reward for their efforts in reaching the top of the ladder of baseball supremacy in city league competition.

Most of the games in the city league this year have displayed a fine brand of ball, and with the clubs evenly matched, a wild scramble will no doubt result in the efforts of the individual teams to walk off with The Freeman trophy.

Budge Vs. Parker In Semi-Finals

Wimbledon, Eng., June 30 (AP)—Barring any such flurry of upsets as struck the Women's Division yesterday, Don Budge of Oakland, Calif., and Baron Gottfried Von Cramm of Germany, generally regarded as the world's best amateur tennis players, were favored to reach the last round of the All-England Tennis Championships today.

The semi-final pairings sent Budge, favorite to succeed Fred Perry as champion, against his American Davis Cup teammate, Frankie Parker of Milwaukee. Von Cramm opposed Perry's successor as Britain's No. 1 amateur, Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin.

Parker, whose success in reaching the semi-finals came as something of a surprise, was hardly regarded as a match for Budge, who hasn't lost a set since he reached England. The slightly-built Austin, who has the knack of bringing his tennis form to a peak for a big match, was given a somewhat better chance of upsetting Von Cramm.

After yesterday, however, the fans figured almost anything could happen. Both the winner and runner-up in the 1936 Women's Tournament, Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., and Mrs. Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling of Denmark, were eliminated in the quarter final round as Dorothy Round of England, Alice Marble, the American Champion, Jadwiga Jedrzejowska of Poland and Mme. Rene Mathieu of France won the last four brackets.

Women's Singles Enters 3rd Round

Montclair, N. J., June 30 (AP)—Eunice Dean of San Antonio, Tex. second seeded in the Eastern Clay Courts Women's Singles Tennis Championship, oppose Betty Hughes of Verona, N. J., in a third round match today.

Grace Surber of Jackson Heights, N. Y., seeded third, faced Elizabeth Johnson of Montclair, and Mrs. Tokuko M. Nakano of Japan, seeded fourth, met the winner of the match between Sophia Neiwirth of Newark, and Mrs. Helen Dyson of New York.

Top-seeded Norma Taubele of New York, already in the quarter-final round, was scheduled to oppose the winner of the third round match between Argyll Rice of Hartford, Conn., and Patricia Cumming of Westfield, N. J.

In outstanding matches yesterday, Miss Taubele defeated Helene Lynen of Ridgewood, 6-2, 6-2; Miss Dean won from Dorothy Doty of Yonkers, N. Y., 6-3, 6-4; Mrs. Nakano defeated Dorothy Lyman of Englewood, 6-1, 6-1, and Miss Surber won from Mrs. Elizabeth Van Duyne of Newark, 6-1, 6-1.

Helen Germaine of New York, former Public Parks Champion, played Mrs. Cecelia Jackson of Fleet Hollow, N. Y., in the second round.

Colonials vs. Montreal Clowns In Night Game, July 4 at Pan-Am

The second night baseball game in the history of the city will be staged Sunday, July 4, under the arc lights at the Pan-Am diamond, when the Kingston Colonials face the Montreal Clowns. The contest is scheduled to start at 9:15 sharp.

Manager Fred Davi announced today that the Clowns, one of the leading traveling clubs, will bring their own $10,000 lighting plant which has been widely acclaimed in semi-pro circles and is surpassed only by the system used by the crack Savitt-Gems in Hartford.

The Colonials anticipate a record breaking crowd at the Saugerties road diamond for this novel attraction. In addition to being a crack aggregation, the Clowns put on a pre-game act that rivals the House of David pepper game or Buster Kenney's antics.

Last season the Clowns, touring the United States and Canada, won 75 games and lost 44 against the best in the semi-pro ranks. The star of the club is Borchers, fast ball artist, who long has ranked among the best pitchers in the semi-pro circles.

The Colonials will use either Joe Brown or King Kong Shackett in the box. Brown has been pitching sensational ball for the locals. The Colonials are tentatively scheduled to play on the road Sunday afternoon.

With the loss of Tommy Maines to an Albany twilight league club, the Colonials expect to have a new outfielder for Sunday's games. The balance of the lineup will be intact with C. Tiano, Burgevin, Turck, Francello and Carl Husta for infield duty, Mac Tiano and Charlie Lay in the outfield. Joe Hoffman will be behind the plate.

The Colonials will erect a canvas enclosure around the Pan-Am field for the night contest.

To date the locals have split in ten games against leading opposition available.

Nelson Vs. Rees In Ryder Cup Golf

Southport, Eng., June 30 (AP).—The team captains denied they arranged it, but singles play today in the Ryder Cup golf matches brought together the two young men who stand out in the present competition to an extent that wouldn't have been believed 24 hours ago.

Facing each other in one of the eight singles matches were the young American, Byron Nelson and Dai Rees, the 24-year-old Britisher whose smile knocks you in the eye harder than Joe Louis' left.

Nelson shot some of the most magnificent golf anybody ever saw as he and the veteran Ed Dudley polished off Great Britain's loudly heralded pair, Henry Cotton and Alf Padgham, 4 and 2, to help America gain a lead of 2½ to 1½ in the opening Scotch foursomes.

At the beginning of the afternoon with everything all square Nelson simply knocked England's greatest players into a cocked hat. Dudley was playing pretty good golf himself but he especially requested when the match ended that Nelson be given any credit that was lying around loose.

Rees, who is still only an assistant professional, was paired with his ageing and near-sighted captain, Charles A. Whitcombe. He held his elderly partner up by the slack of his pants and in the end gained a half with Denny Shute and Gene Sarazen, considered by many America's strongest pair. On the 18th green with Sarazen's ball just barely off his line he sank a six foot putt that squared the match and prevented England from starting today's singles in a hopeless position.

After playing against Rees yesterday Sarazen described him a "greatest player I've ever seen developed in England. What a honey." Shute was even more speechless than usual. He and Sarazen thought they had a cinch for Whitcombe is barely past his prime. He can play only average golf now and he had practically no business in yesterday's company.

Rees isn't exactly unknown in England. He's the country's match play champion. He's a little fellow about Sarazen's height but with little of Gene's weight. He's unmarried, doesn't smoke or drink and has a Welsh accent you could cut with a knife. He's nominated here as perhaps the world's next golfing champion. Nobody has yet discovered his weakness. He says his favorite shot is a full brassie to green, "but I like to putt, too."

In the other matches yesterday the Britishers, Percy Alliss and Richard Burton, defeated Henry Picard and Johnny Revolta 2 and 1 and Ralph Guldahl, open champion, and Tony Manero, registered an American victory by Downing Arthur Lacey and William J. Cox 2 and 1.

It's not exactly the way Col. Jacob Ruppert would have it, but nevertheless the manner in which the Chicago White Sox are snapping at the Yankees' heels has brought joy to the remainder of the American League.

Col. Ruppert would much rather see his world champions out in front, spread-eagling the field as they did last year when they held an eight and a half game advantage over the second place Tigers on the last day of June. The White Sox were just another ball club down in sixth place and trailing by 13½ games.

The Yanks again hold first place today but their position was far from as secure as it was a year ago. The Pale Hose trailed only by three games after climbing into the first division on June 1. Last year they didn't stick their heads out of the second flight until late in July.

Falling back on Red Ruffing's pinch single in the ninth after George Selkirk and Bill Dickey had blasted out home runs earlier in the game, the Yanks defeated the Athletics 3 to 2 yesterday. The White Sox kept pace with them, however, as they turned back the Tigers by the same score for their ninth straight triumph.

Largely responsible for the Sox's victory was Monty Stratton, big 23-year-old right handed ace. In chalking up his ninth success as compared to four setbacks, Stratton limited the Tigers to three hits, fanned two and did not issue a base on balls. The Sox also helped the Tigers to a major league record in that not a Detroit player was left on base. Pete Fox and Goose Goslin scored on two of the hits and Billy Rogell was eliminated in a double play.

Although the American League pennant scrap is much closer than usual, the National League is going the junior circuit one better in that only three games separate the pace-setting Cubs and the fourth place Pirates.

The Cubs' rough and tumble 11 to 9 triumph over the Cards, in which Dizzy Dean pitched one inning and was charged with the defeat; the Giants' 4 to 3 decision over the Phillies in ten innings, and the Pirates' double victory over the Reds by the scores of 2-1 and 12-6 brought the four leaders closer together.

Ten pitchers, six of them members of the Cardinal staff, saw action in the Cubs-Cards affair. Dean entered the game in the ninth with the Gas House Gang leading by one run. Three hits, a walk and errors by Mickey Owen and Leo Durocher gave the Cubs three runs and the game. Charley Root received credit for the win.

In addition to the Giants-Phillies affair, in which Jim Ripple led the champions' attack with four hits, Brooklyn and Boston went overtime, the Bees winning 1-0 on Pitcher Lou Fette's 12th-inning single. The Red Sox and Senators battled the same length of time to a 2-2 tie while the Indians whipped the Browns 7 to 5.

New York—Frankie Terranova, 142, outpointed Young Chapple, 136½, Albany, (8).

Brother Abe Helps Condition Amateur Belter for Friday

Professional Heavyweight Back from West Coast Will Second Jackie in Main Bout at the Auditorium.

Jackie Feldman will be in the best shape of his career for the five round bout with Tommy Caines at the municipal auditorium, Friday, and hopes to score a knockout over the West Point Cavalryman.

The Schenectady Iceman has been working out with his brother, Abe, professional heavyweight in preparation for the tilt with Uncle Sam's horseman. "Jackie looks better than ever," said Abe today, "and I think he's ready for the pro ranks."

Abe recently returned from California where he took on some of the best opposition the west coast territory had to offer. Desiring to keep in shape, he sparred with Jackie, putting the Adirondack A. A. U. star in fine trim.

The heavier Feldman started boxing as an Adirondack amateur, then branched out into the professional ranks on advice of pugilistic experts who still predict he'll be right out in the front some day.

Friday night, Abe will be in Kingston to second his kid brother, and to take a bow from the ring at the auditorium.

Despite his superb condition, physically and in the line of boxing, Feldman should have no walk-away. Caines is ready to put up a stiff leather argument himself, according to word from West Point.

Jackie Filkins, the Cavalryman who does the talking for the band of scrappers in the horse brigade, informed a member of the mayor's industrial committee today that Caines has been doing unusually well in workouts and has all of the boys run bowlegged.

"This Caines fellow," said Filkins, "is in good shape and ready to put up a whale of a fight. He has been working out with me, and I know. Sergeant Perry too adds his o.k. because he has been slamming 'em with Caines in preparation for his meeting with Johnny Bileski in the near future."

Caines has defeated some well known amateurs, including Poughkeepsie's Eddie Steele, who, although he is not the smartest ringman around these parts, has belted out decisions over some real good boys.

Another bout that is expected to develop into a real slugfest Friday is the five rounder between Buddy Emerson, St. Remy lightweight, and Danny Johnson, 133 pounder from Albany.

Emerson, the localite who once boxed Lou Ambers, has scored two wins in a comeback trial after two years of inactivity in the ring. Pete Gama of Newburgh and Johnny Hampton of Albany were the victims of his punching power, and now he plans on taking Johnson into camp.

"He may beat me," Johnson said after accepting the fight, "but he won't have such an easy time as he did with Gama and Hampton. I'll slug it out to the finish, and I plan on being right there until the last bell."

The other five rounder will feature Poughkeepsie's Sammy Travetello, 119 pounds, against Johnny Pomato, Albany bantamweight. This match is a return between the two gamesters who fought it out in Woodcliff Park several weeks ago. Both are confident on winning.

One five rounder is lacking on the bill, Danny Romano having telegraphed the industrial committee that he will not be able to keep his engagement with Charlie Forezzi because of an injured hand.

The Three Rounders.

Johnny Castor, 147, Highland, vs. Solly Nardillo, 147, Albany.

Irv Van Kleeck, 126, vs. Charlie Moslowski, 127, Newburgh.

Davy Hopp, 135, Kingston, vs. Winkie Meyers, 135, Kingston.

Another heavy demand for reserved seats is expected, the same as last Friday, so those who desire the best are advised to communicate with the municipal auditorium, 3718, at once.

Nick Zinna Is Still Boxing Out In California

Boxing fans disussing old-time scrappers often wonder about Nick Zinna, the National Guard lightweight, who fought some of the best bouts ever seen around these parts when the soldier belters were featured at the old armory, now the auditorium, by Captain E. C. Lawson.

Nick used to keep in touch with local sports scribes, but discontinued writing for more than a year, and they were at a loss to give out information when boxing enthusiasts inquired about the former uncrowned champion of the Hudson valley.

Zinna cleared up the situation again today by a postal to the sports editor of The Freeman. It said:

"Guess you will be surprised to hear from he. I am fighting here, about 300 miles from Los Angeles. Drop me a line. My address is 205 Isabel street, Los Angeles, Cal."

Fans probably thought that Nick had quit boxing, because most of the scrappers prominent in his time here have hung up the gloves, Harry Matinsky, Johnny Carpino and the rest of them. But the old meastro, the smartest ringman ever to show as a local boy, is still going strong.

Zinna was known as the cleverest bob and weave pugilist that ever drew on a glove here and took less punishment than any of the rest. He had the knack of ridding a punch, too, and this art helped him to put plenty of color into his work.

Nick went to the west more than two years ago and slides earning a livelihood, has worked as an extra in movies.

Friends of Nick's can make him feel good by dropping him a postal at the address given.

Evangelist Aimee A Witness In Hunt Trial, Los Angeles

Los Angeles, June 30 (AP).—Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of Angeles Temple, was a prospective defense witness today in the trial of John W. Hunt, charged with violation of the Mann Act in bringing 17-year-old Delight Jewett here from Denver.

Hugh MacBeth, Hunt's negro attorney, said he would subpoena Mrs. McPherson "for the purpose of showing the jury just how a religious worker reacts to manifestations of the divine spirit as Mr. Hunt has been struck by them."

Hunt testified yesterday he had illicit relations with the Denver high school girl. He also testified that Father Divine, negro leader of the cult, had scolded him for his conduct with Miss Jewett and for entertaining the notion he was Jesus the Christ.

Mrs. McPherson said she had not been following the trial and could not indicate the nature of testimony she would give.

"However, if I am subpoenaed I will do my best to clarify the situation if it is a muddled one from the standpoint of divine forces," she added.

Hunt finished his cross-examination late yesterday.

"Father Divine said, when Delight and I reached New York last January, that I was wrong for carrying on as I had and for thinking I was Jesus, and told me my body was condemned," Hunt testified

Hunt's graphic, detailed account of his relations with the comely Denver girl, lived up to the promise of his attorney that his testimony would be freely given The defendant admitted he had been intimate with the girl half a dozen times.

Parkers Sentenced To Federal Prisons In Wendel Capture

Newark, N. J., June 30 (AP)—Ellis Parker, Sr., Chief of the Burlington County Detectives, was sentenced to six years in a Federal Penitentiary today and his son, Ellis, Jr., to three years for plotting the kidnaping of Paul H. Wendel.

The Parkers were convicted a week ago today of conspiring to seize and torture Wendel, former Trenton lawyer, to obtain from him a false confession to the Lindbergh baby kidnaping. The "confession", investigated by two Grand Juries, delayed the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann three days.

The Jury, which heard testimony for nine weeks, recommended leniency and Federal Judge William Clark, who imposed the sentences today, said then the recommendation would carry "great weight,..

The younger Parker, 26, stood before the bar with arms folded while the elder Parker, because of his 65 years, was permitted to sit in a chair as Judge Clark imposed the prison penalties.

Before the sentencing Chief Defense Counsel J. Mercer Davis made a personal plea for young Parker, who did not take the stand. Davis said "I have known him ever since he was a 'pup' and no one in Burlington county could say anything against him".

As for the senior Parker, and his son, too, Davis pointed out that 85 character witnesses testified during the nine weeks' trial and asked that the court consider their testimony. Referring to the Jury's recommendation for leniency, Davis said:

"Nothing I could say could add to that".

Roosevelt Group Suggests Overhaul Of Fiscal Branch

Washington, June 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt's committee on administrative management recommended today a thorough overhauling of the government's fiscal machinery.

It urged that the budget bureau and the treasury be reorganized and suggested that powers of the comptroller general be curtailed.

The committee, which formulated the President's broad government reorganization program, also proposed that Congress discontinue making "highly detailed appropriations," changing these gradually to "larger lump sum amounts."

"The itemization of appropriations has gone so far," the report said, "that it often enables Congress to brush aside the executive and to control the administration directly through detailed specifications in the granting of money."

Declaring the President should be "fully responsible for the financial management of the government," the committee said lump sum appropriations would make possible more effective control of spending through periodic allotments to departments by the treasury or budget bureau.

The budget bureau, the report said, should be completely reorganized and integrated with the treasury so that it could exercise effective control over spending.

Condemning "the archaic structure of the treasury department," the committe urged that its functions be grouped into five main divisions—general administration, revenue, fiscal control, receipts and payments and purchasing.

It said the treasury should formulate a central accounting system to coordinate accounting activities of all departments.

Division of authority between the comptroller general and other executives of the general accounting office, the report continued, "is a continual source of conflict between them."

Describing the comptroller general as a "little president," the survey asserted that in practice his statutory powers give him authority "over any administrative procedure that calls for the payment of money from the treasury."

The committee suggested instead that he make a post-audit of all receipts and expenditures.

He should continue, it said, as an agent of Congress, reporting to a joint congressional committee.

2,000 NEW YORK BOYS MAY JOIN CCC UNITS

Under a new law just signed by President Roosevelt, approximately 2,000 New York state youths whose families are not on home relief will have an opportunity to enroll in the CCC. The next enrollment period is July 1-31.

Assistant State Commissioner of Welfare F. I. Daniels states however that preference will still be given boys from relief families. Only boys between the ages of 17 and 23 may now go to the camps as the new law reduces the upper age limit by five years.
